The Great Philosophers: Marx Terry Eagleton, 2011-10-13 We are free when like artists we produce without the goad of physical necessity Karl Marx For Marx freedom entailed release from commercial labour In this highly engaging account Eagleton outlines the relationship between production labour and ownership which lie at the core of Marx's thinking Marx's utopia was a place in which labour is increasingly automated emancipating the wealth of sensuous individual development so that savouring a peach is an aspect of our self-actualisation as much as building dams or churning out coat hangers Combining extracts from Marx's revolutionary philosophy along with insightful analysis this is the perfect guide to one of the world's greatest thinkers The Idea of the Avant Garde Marc James Léger, 2019-10-15 The concept of the avant garde is highly contested whether one consigns it to history or claims it for present day or future uses The first volume of The Idea of the Avant Garde And What It Means Today provided a lively forum on the kinds of radical art theory and partisan practices that are possible in today's world of global art markets and creative industry entrepreneurialism This second volume presents the work of another 50 artists and writers exploring the diverse ways that avant gardism develops reflexive and experimental combinations of aesthetic and political praxis The manifest strategies temporalities and genealogies of avant garde art and politics are expressed through an international intergenerational and interdisciplinary convocation of ideas that covers the fields of film video architecture visual art art activism literature poetry theatre performance intermedia and music

Marxism and Literary Criticism Terry Eagleton, 1976-08-16 Far and away the best short introduction to Marxist criticism both history and problems which I have seen Fredric R Jameson Terry Eagleton is that rare bird among literary critics a real writer Colin McCabe The Guardian

Economic Injustice and the Rhetoric of the American Dream Luke Winslow, 2017-07-24 Our economic arrangements require a persuasive story that can explain who is rich who is poor and why This story shapes our attitudes toward what is just and unjust this story dispenses power to some and withholds it from others and the deeply political and paradoxical nature of this story presents a valuable site of rhetorical inquiry Economic Injustice and the Rhetoric of the American Dream fills an important scholarly gap by connecting the need to make sense of economic arrangements with the rhetoric of the American Dream Luke Winslow examines how the rhetoric of the American Dream has emerged as a dominant cultural touchstone in oscillation with a widespread shift to individualistic explanations for economic arrangements the arrival of neoliberalism growing levels on inequality and dismal rates of economic mobility By developing the tools of rhetorical and ideological criticism this book explores the American Dream in relation to religious economic educational and political institutions ranging from Prosperity Theology to the candidacy and election of Donald Trump Recommended for scholars in Communication Economics Political Science and Religious Studies

The God Debaters Adrian Rosenfeldt, 2022-05-04 This book examines the post 9 11 God debate in the West Through a close study of prominent English God debaters Richard Dawkins Karen Armstrong Christopher Hitchens and Terry Eagleton Adrian Rosenfeldt demonstrates that New Atheist and religious apologist ideas and arguments about God science and identity are driven by mythic autobiographical narratives and Protestant or Catholic cultural heritage This study is informed by criticism of the New Atheist polemic as being positivistic and the religious apologists as propagating sophisticated theology In both cases the God debaters are perceived as disassociating themselves from human lived experience It is through reconnecting the God debaters intellectual ideas to their cultural and social background that the God debate can be grounded in a recognisable human reality that eludes reductive distinctions and disembodied abstractions

Struggling for the Soul of Our Country Preston M. Browning, 2016-05-20 Struggling for the Soul of Our Country is a book in search of answers what does it mean to struggle for the soul of a country and how does the life of citizenship influence our common future While discussing major cultural and political issues Browning addresses the deeper questions haunting many of our citizens and reflects upon the spiritual dimension of the crises America faces today With titles such as American Global Hegemony vs the Quest for a New Humanity Why I Am a Christian Socialist and American Dystopia these essays examine aspects of American political and cultural life in an effort to shed light on the pathologies that Browning claims undermine the health of the country's soul. This book invites the reader to examine the development of America as a militaristic empire initiating multiple wars abroad including a disastrous war in Iraq and fostering at home a culture of violence that led to the assassination of an American president John F. Kennedy by agents of the US government.

Critical Practice from Voltaire to Foucault, Eagleton and Beyond John E. O'Brien, 2013-11-15 Using the historical materialist method to unravel the promise and limits of critical practice since the Revolutionary Age John E. O'Brien investigates the problems and prospects of cultural criticism for the 21st century through absorbing studies of the contested perspectives of Voltaire, Friedrich Schiller, Jean Baudrillard, Michel Foucault, Terry Eagleton, and Hayden White. In spite of recurrent crises due to a flawed Western political economy, why is there so much critical intellectual activity with so little effect? Framing his study with the early work by Max Horkheimer, Luc Boltanski, and Teresa Ebert, O'Brien's investigation of resistance in America and Europe challenges the bourgeois philosophy of history, pointing to the urgency of critique as mode of analysis and intervention.

Restructuring Capitalism Rogene Buchholz, 2017-04-21 The main theme of this book is that within contemporary capitalist societies a materialist outlook informed by science has triumphed, creating the lack of a spiritual dimension to give meaning and purpose to the activities that are necessary for a capitalist society to function effectively. Capitalist societies are in trouble and need to be restructured to provide for the material needs of all the people who work within the system, not just the one percent, but because of the lack of a spiritual connection with each other and with nature, this is not likely to happen. It has been said that society and the organizations within treat one another as objects to be manipulated in the interests of promoting economic growth and treat nature as an object to be exploited for the same purpose. This way of treating each other and nature is consistent with the way a capitalist system has worked in the past and was supposed to enable it to function efficiently to provide a fulfilling and enriched life for all its adherents through growth of the economy. However, as capitalist societies have become dysfunctional, they will need a different kind of orientation to continue in existence.

Restructuring Capitalism: Materialism and Spiritualism in Business argues that what is needed is a new sense of a spiritualization of the self and its relation to others and to the establishment of a spiritual connection with nature in order for capitalism to be restructured to work for everyone and for the society as a whole.

Marx and Freedom Terry Eagleton, 1997 Terry Eagleton explains that freedom for Marx entailed release from commercial labour, a kind of creative superabundance over what is materially essential. Eagleton outlines the relationship between production, labour, and ownership, which lie at the core of Marx's thinking. Marx's utopia was a place in which labour is increasingly automated, emancipating the wealth of sensuous individual development so that savouring a peach is an aspect of our self-actualisation as much as building dams.
