

THE DOWNSIDES OF E-TEXTBOOKS

11%

of college students have bought e-textbooks.

76%

of students would pick a printed book over an e-textbook if they had the option.

8%

of college students surveyed owned an e-reader device.

60%

of students in one survey felt they read more when using a physical textbook than an e-textbook.

Some of the books students need aren't available in a digital format, or they're hard to find.

The cost to purchase a tablet or e-reader is still too high for some students. Plus, they can't sell the books back.

E-readers and tablets don't have enough storage space for all of the books they need.

The e-textbooks are clunky and hard to read; students expect more from them.
