What makes "Into the Dark Water" so thrilling to read? How does it grip your attention? The author, Lauren Tarshis, uses many writing techniques to make the article exciting. In this activity, you'll take a close look at what they are.

We put some sentences from the article through our Dazzling Duplicating Machine. Look what happened:

| Before                                                                              | After                                                       |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------|
| "The men were shining so brightly that they reminded Jack of diamonds." (p. 4)      | Jack thought the men were very bright.                      |
| "Their large first-class cabins were as large as rooms in the brass hotels." (p. 5) | Their large cabins were really large.                       |
| "Anderson's grave expression sent a shill of fear through Jack's heart." (p. 6)     | Jack became scared when he saw the look on Anderson's face. |

1. How do the sentences on the left help you imagine what it was like to be on the Titanic? How do they differ from the sentences on the right?

Here are more parts of the article that went through the machine:
