Vitamin D New Perspectives In Drawing By Emma Dexter:

The Story of Drawing Susan Owens, 2024-09-10 Drawing is at the heart of human creativity The most democratic form of art making it requires nothing more than a plain surface and a stub of pencil a piece of chalk or an inky brush Our prehistoric ancestors drew with natural pigments on the walls of caves and every subsequent culture has practised drawing whether on papyrus parchment or paper Artists throughout history have used drawing as part of the creative process While painting and sculpture have been shaped heavily by money and influence drawing has always offered extraordinary creative latitude Here we see the artist at his or her most unguarded Susan Owens offers a glimpse over artists shoulders from Michelangelo Rembrandt and Hokusai to Van Gogh K the Kollwitz and Yayoi Kusama as they work think and innovate as they scrutinise the world around them or escape into their imaginations The Story of Drawing loops around the established history of art sometimes staying close at other times diving into exhilarating and altogether less familiar territory Drawing

Investigations Sarah Casey, Gerry Davies, 2020-06-11 Using close visual analysis of drawings artist interviews critical analysis and exegesis Drawing Investigations examines how artists use drawing as an investigative tool to reveal information that would otherwise remain unseen and unnoticed How does drawing add shape to ideas How does the artist accommodate to challenges and restraints of a particular environment To what extent is a drawing complementary and continuous with its subject and where is it disruptive and provocative Casey and Davies address these questions while focusing on artists working collaboratively and the use of drawing in challenging or unexpected environments Drawing Investigations evaluates the emergence of a way of thinking among an otherwise disconnected group of artists by exploring commonalities in the application of analytical drawing to the natural world urban environment social forces and lived experience Examples represent a spectrum of research in international contexts an oceanographic Institute in California the archives of Amsterdam s Rijksmuseum the Antarctic Survey geothermal research in Japan and the Kurdish diaspora in Iraq Issues are situated in the contemporary theory and practice of drawing including relationships to historical precedents By exploring drawing s capacity to capture and describe experience to sharpen visual faculties and to bridge embodied and conceptual knowledge Drawing Investigations offers a fresh critical perspective on contemporary drawing practice

Drawing/Thinking Marc Treib, 2012-12-06 Bringing together authors from the fields of architecture landscape architecture and art this book addresses the question Why draw by examining the various dynamic relationships between media process thought and environment A Companion to Contemporary Drawing Kelly Chorpening, Rebecca Fortnum, 2020-11-24 The first university level textbook on the power condition and expanse of contemporary fine art drawing A Companion to Contemporary Drawing explores how 20th and 21st century artists have used drawing to understand and comment on the world Presenting contributions by both theorists and practitioners this unique textbook considers the place space and history of drawing and explores shifts in attitudes towards its practice over the years Twenty seven essays discuss how drawing emerges from the mind of the artist to question and reflect upon what they see feel and experience This book discusses key themes in contemporary drawing practice addresses the working conditions and context of artists and considers a wide range of personal social and political considerations that influence artistic choices Topics include the politics of eroticism in South American drawing anti capitalist drawing from Eastern Europe drawing and conceptual art feminist drawing and exhibitions that have put drawing practices at the centre of contemporary art This textbook Demonstrates ways contemporary issues and concerns are addressed through drawing Reveals how drawing is used to make powerful social and political statements Situates works by contemporary practitioners within the context of their historical moment Explores how contemporary art practices utilize drawing as both process and finished artifact Shows how concepts of observation representation and audience have changed dramatically in the digital era Establishes drawing as a mode of thought Part of the acclaimed Wiley Blackwell Companions to Art History series A Companion to Contemporary Drawing is a valuable text for students of fine art art history and curating and for practitioners working within contemporary fine art practice Thinking About Drawing Simon Grennan, 2022-03-10 This accessible book explains the significance of relationships between the body and the mark visual imitation drawing and writing and visual storytelling providing a simple guide to these key ideas For millennia drawing has been conceived as an exploratory activity mediating between the vision of the drafter and what they are drawing Drawing reveals hidden relationships directs attention scrutinises the material world and provides plans for further action The book unpacks the key ideas that have shaped the rich complex and foundational activity of drawing It presents an unexpected engaging and authoritative range of illustrated examples of drawings made by culturally and historically diverse people for different purposes with different media in widely different times and situations Educator author and artist Simon Grennan builds together concepts to create a complete guide to ideas about drawing

The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of the Contemporary World Paul Graves-Brown, Rodney Harrison, Angela Piccini, 2013-10-17 It has been clear for many years that the ways in which archaeology is practised have been a direct product of a particular set of social cultural and historical circumstances archaeology is always carried out in the present More recently however many have begun to consider how archaeological techniques might be used to reflect more directly on the contemporary world itself how we might undertake archaeologies of as well as in the present This Handbook is the first comprehensive survey of an exciting and rapidly expanding sub field and provides an authoritative overview of the newly emerging focus on the archaeology of the present and recent past In addition to detailed archaeological case studies it includes essays by scholars working on the relationships of different disciplines to the archaeology of the contemporary world including anthropology psychology philosophy historical geography science and technology studies communications and media ethnoarchaeology forensic archaeology sociology film performance and contemporary art This volume seeks to explore the boundaries of an emerging sub discipline to develop a tool kit of concepts and methods which are applicable to this new field and to suggest important future trajectories for research. It makes a significant intervention by drawing together scholars working on a broad range of themes, approaches, methods, and case studies from diverse contexts in different parts of the world which have not previously been considered collectively.

Drawing Difference Marsha Meskimmon, Phil Sawdon, 2016-03-24. Drawing has been growing in recognition and stature within contemporary fine art since the mid 1970s. Simultaneously, feminist activism has been widespread, leading to the increased prominence of women artists, scholars, critics, and curators, and the wide acknowledgement of the crucial role played by gender and sexual difference in constituting the subject. Drawing Difference argues that these developments did not occur in parallel simply by coincidence. Rather, the intimate interplay between drawing and feminism is best characterised as allotropic, a term originating in chemistry that describes a single pure element which nevertheless assumes varied physical structures denoting the fundamental affinities which underlie apparently differing material forms. The book takes as its starting point three works from the 1970s by Annette Messager, Dorothea Rockburne, and Carolee Schneeman that are used to exemplify critical developments in feminist art history and key moments for drawing as a means of expression. Throughout the chapters, these works are further explored in relation to the contemporary drawing practices of Marco Maggi, Sian Bowen, Susan Hauptmann, Cornelia Parker, Christoph Fink, and Toba Khedouri. Their works are shown to be re-iterative sites where mark-making differs with each appearance yet retains certain essential features. Dividing its analysis into the themes 'Approaching Tropes' and 'Coinciding', the book analyses how both drawing and feminist discourse emphasise dialogue, matter, and openness. It demonstrates how sexual difference, subjectivity, and drawing are connected at an elemental level and thus how drawing has played a vital role in the articulation of the material and conceptual dynamics of feminism.

Creative Practice and Embodied Narratives Barbara Doran, 2025-12-16. This book distils thirty years of creative practice into a rigorous inquiry that bridges artmaking, somatic intelligence, and systems thinking. Rooted in the author's concept of Embodied Matter Exploration (EME), it positions creativity as cultural metabolism where material memory and body co-compose meaning. Each chapter unfolds around an artwork as theory, method, and intervention. Resisting fragmentation, the book integrates autoethnography, semiotics, and living systems thinking. Academic literature is treated as a dialogical companion. By participating in meaning-making and interpretation, readers gain new perceptions of self, nature, and society and develop critical reflections to challenge pressing issues such as social injustice, environmental sustainability, and technology's shaping impacts. A thought-provoking read for those interested in systems theory, anthropology, health psychology, neuroscience, and ecology, this practice-led and autoethnographic work opens new paths to possibility studies and creative research.

Contemporary Drawing Margaret Davidson, 2011-04-19. Drawing is experiencing an unparalleled surge in the art world. Pass notions that once defined drawing as being a preparatory stage for painting or sculpture have long since been cast aside. Drawing is now fully recognized as its own art form in the biennials, art fairs, museum exhibitions, and beyond. Drawing has come of age Contemporary artists are increasingly discovering that drawing is something unique and different from painting It is an intense sensitive compelling personal and utterly direct art form one with its own concepts characteristics and techniques In addition contemporary drawing is not governed by any particular imagery but rather encompasses a variety of approaches including realist abstract modernist and post modernist Contemporary Drawing delves into the essential and far reaching concepts of this medium exploring surface mark space composition scale materials and intentionality in turn Key techniques such as using nature to induce marks and working with a checklist to determine a drawing s problems are introduced throughout Plus an in depth chapter examines a number of artists such as William Kentridge and Gego who are breaking traditional boundaries that separate one artistic discipline from another Lushly illustrated by a wide range of highly accomplished contemporary artists Contemporary Drawing offers a broad perspective on this expansive and energized field of art

The Cultures of Entanglement Suzanne Anker, Sabine Flach, 2024-03-04 The symbolic meaning of plants their relevance to religion and the metaphorical provocations in the order of knowledge culture and political power underline the role of plants as something more than passive objects Current theoretical and artistic discourses have been seeking access to the world independently of man by focusing on the nonhuman other The contributors to this volume examine the historical philosophical and scientific findings that generate this idea In what way are such perspectives manifest in contemporary art Do artists develop a particular approach that enables nonhuman life forms like plants insects or animals to have an impact

Distinctive Styles and Authorship in Alternative Comics Lukas Etter, 2020-12-16 Distinctive Styles and Authorship in Alternative Comics addresses the benefits and limits of analyses of style in alternative comics It offers three close readings of works serially published between 1980 and 2018 Art Spiegelman's Maus Alison Bechdel's Dykes to Watch Out For and Jason Lutes Berlin and discusses how artistic style may influence the ways in which readers construct authorship

Gaps and the Creation of Ideas Judith Seligson, 2021-03-08 Gaps and the Creation of Ideas An Artist's Book is a portrait of the space between things whether they be neurons quotations comic book frames or fragments in a collage This twenty year project is an artist's book that juxtaposes quotations and images from hundreds of artists and writers with the author's own thoughts Using Adobe InDesign for composition and layout the author has structured the book to show analogies among disparate texts and images There have always been gaps but a focus on the space between things is virtually synonymous with modernity Often characterized as a break modernity is a story of gaps Around 1900 many independent strands of gap thought and experience interacted and interwove more intricately Atoms textiles theories women Jews collage poetry patchwork and music figure prominently in these strands The gap is a ubiquitous phenomenon that crosses the boundaries of neuroscience rabbinic thinking modern literary criticism art popular culture and the structure of matter This book explores many subjects but it is ultimately a work of art Art on Paper ,2005 Dwell ,2006-05 At Dwell we re staging a minor revolution We think that it s possible to live in a house or apartment by a bold modern architect to own furniture and products that are exceptionally well designed and still be a regular human being We think that good design is an integral part of real life And that real life has been conspicuous by its absence in most design and architecture magazines ITB journal of visual art and design ,2013 Subjectivity across Media Maike Sarah Reinerth,Jan-Noël Thon,2016-10-04 Media in general and narrative media in particular have the potential to represent not only a variety of both possible and actual worlds but also the perception and consciousness of characters in these worlds Hence media can be understood as qualia machines as technologies that allow for the production of subjective experiences within the affordances and limitations posed by the conventions of their specific mediality This edited collection examines the transmedial as well as the medium specific strategies employed by the verbal representations characteristic for literary texts the verbal pictorial representations characteristic for comics the audiovisual representations characteristic for films and the interactive representations characteristic for video games Combining theoretical perspectives from analytic philosophy cognitive theory and narratology with approaches from phenomenology psychosemiotics and social semiotics the contributions collected in this volume provide a state of the art map of current research on a wide variety of ways in which subjectivity can be represented across conventionally distinct media
