

Fact & Opinion

A well-known primatologist, humanitarian and animal rights campaigner, Jane Goodall is famous for her detailed studies of chimpanzees in Tanzania, observing how they interacted in family and social situations.

Read the following statements. Mark F for fact if the statement is a fact. Mark O for opinion. If the statement is an opinion, underline the words or phrases that make it so.

1. _____ Born on the 3rd of April 1934, Jane Goodall is a British primatologist and anthropologist.
2. _____ Goodall established the Jane Goodall Institute in 1977, to support research while actively running a range of conservation programs to protect chimpanzees and the environment.
3. _____ Goodall is the greatest primatologist. She discovered the most important things about chimpanzees that have ever been discovered.
4. _____ Goodall studied chimpanzees in great detail, learning how they lived in groups, problem solved and interacted with their environment. She discovered that chimpanzees had the mental capacity to not only use simple tools but to actually make them as well, something that was previously thought to be uniquely human.
5. _____ Due to Goodall's studies, we should all be more respectful of chimpanzees in the wild and support all efforts to save animals and their habitats.
6. _____ Goodall is a hero and role model to everyone who cares about animals, especially chimpanzees.
7. _____ Unlike most researchers, Goodall named the animals that were part of her studies, normally numbers were assigned in order to remove the possibility of the researcher becoming attached to the subjects. Her unique methods stood out and were at times subject to criticism.
8. _____ Goodall's use of names for the animals she studied is the best way to study animals. Giving the animals names makes them more like family and makes it more fun to learn about them.
9. _____ Goodall's work is similar to that of Glen Felder, a famous American ecologist who completed a long study of Gorillas in Rwanda, releasing a book titled 'Gorillas in the Mist' which later went on to become a well-known movie.
10. _____ Goodall is a strong supporter of animal rights and has been part of many animal rights organizations. She was the president of Advocates for Animals from 1998 to 2008.
11. _____ Goodall has been awarded many honors for her tireless work. These include the Kyoto Prize, the Benjamin Franklin Medal in Life Science, the Rainforest Alliance Champion Award, The Primates Society of Great Britain Conservation Award, as well as being named as a United Nations Messenger of Peace in 2002.
12. _____ Goodall should have won more awards than she has won, because of all the great things she has done to help primates.

Choose 2 opinions from above and rewrite them to make them facts.
