Abstracts, 1924 The Oxford Handbook of Behavioral Emergencies and Crises Phillip M. Kleespies, 2016-09-19 The Oxford Handbook of Behavioral Emergencies and Crises includes the most up to date and valuable research on the evaluation and management of the most challenging patients or clients faced by mental health providers individuals who are at high risk of suicide of other directed violence or of becoming the victims of interpersonal violence These are cases in which the outcome can be serious injury or death and there can be negative consequences not only for the patient but also for the patient s family and friends for the assessing or treating clinician and for the patient s clinic or medical center Virtually all mental health clinicians with an active caseload will see individuals with such issues This Handbook is comprised of chapters by leading clinicians researchers and scholars in this area of practice It presents a framework for learning the skills needed for assessing and working competently with such high risk individuals Chapters draw a distinction between behavioral emergencies and crises and between emergency intervention and crisis intervention The book examines the inter related aspects of the major behavioral emergencies that is for example the degree to which interpersonal victimization may lead an individual on a pathway to later suicidal or violent behavior or the degree to which suicidal individuals and violent individuals may share certain cognitive characteristics This resource is not simply a knowledge base for behavioral emergencies it also presents a method for reducing stress and acquiring skills in working with high risk people Handbook of Education, Training, and Supervision of School Psychologists in School and Community, Volume II Judith Kaufman, Tammy L.
Hughes, Cynthia A. Riccio, 2010-12-20 Published with the sponsorship of the Trainers of School Psychologists this two volume handbook examines the essential tenets of the school psychology profession critically reviews training and practice issues and evaluates how traditional and changing skills and issues translate into meeting the needs of children and the systems that serve them Volume II extends the discussion of the training of school psychologists from Volume I to an examination of issues critical to the practice of school psychology focusing on the roles of the supervisor as trainer in different contexts Each chapter raises issues for university training in a manner that facilitates the dialogue between university and field trainers This volume also considers issues of professional development credentialing and developing a professional identity topics that predominate in practice settings yet are typically not addressed in any school psychology text It concludes by offering recommendations on how the collaboration between university and field based education can be further improved in the future to anticipate and meet the needs of the next generation of professionals and the children in their care
