Thoughts For All Times:

Thoughts for All Times John Stephen Vaughan, 1913 Thoughts for All Times John Vaughan, 2015-03-08 This is a devotional work by Reverend John Vaughan From the preface THE human heart is captivated more readily and more effectually by love than by fear As children that love their parents serve and obey those parents more cheerfully and willingly than children who are actuated merely by fear so people in general are drawn to the practice of virtue and attracted to the service of God more efficaciously by the power of love than by the principle of fear It is true that the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom yet it is only the beginning for love is the completion of wisdom perfect charity casteth out fear because fear hath pain and he that feareth is not perfected in charity 1 John iv 18 Many persons find the service of God very hard and the way of salvation difficult because they do not love God and they do not love Him because they do not know Him He that loveth not knoweth not God for God is charity 1 John iv 8 Whoever throws light on this powerful and magnetic principle of love smooths the way of salvation for thousands and becomes a great benefactor of mankind This the Right Rev Monsignor Vaughan has done in his excellent work Thoughts for All Times From this truly valuable book the reader gets a deeper insight into the meaning of the words of the beloved disciple Let us love God because God first hath loved us 1 John iv 19

Experiencing Time Simon Prosser, 2016 Our engagement with time is a ubiquitous feature of our lives We are aware of time on many scales from the briefest flicker of change to the way our lives unfold over many years But to what extent does this encounter reveal the true nature of temporal reality To the extent that temporal reality is as it seems how do we come to be aware of it And to the extent that temporal reality is not as it seems why does it seem that way These are the central questions addressed by Simon Prosser in Experiencing Time These questions take on a particular importance in philosophy for two reasons Firstly there is a view concerning the metaphysics of time known as the B theory of time according to which the apparently dynamic quality of change the special status of the present and even the passage of time are all illusions Instead the world is a four dimensional space time block lacking any of the apparent dynamic features of time If the B theory is correct as the book argues then it must be explained why our experiences seem to tell us otherwise Secondly experiences of temporal features such as changes rates and durations are of independent interest because of certain puzzles that they raise the solutions to which may shed light on broader issues in the philosophy of mind The Greatest Children's
