Thought of Death and the Memory of War Marc Crépon, 2013-10-01 War lays bare death and our relation to it And in the wars or more precisely the memories of war of the twentieth century images of the deaths of countless faceless or nameless others eclipse the singularity of each victim's death as well as the end of the world as such that each death signifies Marc Cr pon's The Thought of Death and the Memory of War is a call to resist such images in which death is no longer actual death since it happens to anonymous others and to seek instead a world in which mourning the other whose mortality we always already share points us toward a cosmopolitics Cr pon pursues this path toward a cosmopolitics of mourning through readings of works by Freud Heidegger Sartre Patocka Levinas Derrida and Ric ur and others The movement among these writers Cr pon shows marks a way through and against twentieth century interpretation to argue that no war genocide or neglect of people is possible without suspending how one relates to the death of another human being A history of a critical strain in contemporary thought this book is as Rodolphe Gasch says in the Foreword a profound meditation on what constitutes evil and a rigorous and illuminating reflection on death community and world The translation of this work received financial support from the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs The Opinions of Different Authors Upon the
