in the Global South are often centred around democracy but this book paints a more complex picture examining the role and effect of digital activism in challenging state hegemony in authoritarian contexts The book notes that while communication technologies help mediate activism they are also simultaneously constrained by pre existing and emergent challenges tied to the social and political context and the inherent limitations of those technologies The book investigates the tactics used by digital activists the contextual factors and restrictive political environment they operate in including the role of pro government activists and ultimately the impact of digital activism given these constraints From the case of Zimbabwe the book builds out a broader theoretical analysis of the evolution of third world protest in the digital age examining the limitations of activists actions and the ideological deficit in online activism to ferment a virulent counter hegemony State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs Appropriations for 2017 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs,2016 Export Control Law and Regulations Handbook Yann Aubin,Arnaud Idiart,2016-05-15 The importance of export control laws and regulations in international trade continues to grow not only because of the increase in world trade and technology dispersion but also due to concerns surrounding national and regional stability and the risk of terrorism Accordingly familiarity with export control laws and regulations around the world has become extremely important for those involved in the international trade of dual use or military goods technology and services In this preeminent handbook now in its third edition two experienced professionals have gathered contributions from expert practitioners and academics The third edition adds three new country chapters Brazil Israel and Sweden and a new separate chapter on sanctions and embargoes In addition to chapters on the international regime in general the book provides a practical overview of the export import control regimes covering defence and dual use goods and services in fourteen key jurisdictions Country reports each follow the same structure for easy comparison Issues and topics covered include the following and much more import export legal and regulatory requirements for controlled goods and services sanctions for breach of such requirements civil administrative or criminal licence application processes arms dual use and other products embargo including chemical and biological materials and technology and enforcement measures The Handbook also makes available through an online application all important standard export control related forms templates and other related documents all of which readers can use to draft their own documents The Handbook is invaluable to any professional such as lawyers compliance key players procurement logistics finance and customs practitioners working in relation to an organisation with a need to know the specific requirements to be followed for the efficient and legally compliant import or export of controlled military or dual use goods technologies or services African Studies in the Academy Munyaradzi Mawere,R. Mubaya,2017-08-09 For a long time African Studies as a discipline has been spearheaded by academics and institutions in the Global North This puts African Studies on the continent at a crossroads of making choices on whether such a discipline can be legitimately accepted as an epistemological discipline seeking objectivity and truth about Africa and the African peoples or a discipline meant to perpetuate the Norths hegemonic socio economic political and epistemic control over Africa The compound question that immediately arises is Who should produce what and which space should African Studies occupy in the academy both of the North and of the South Confronted by such a question one wonders whether the existence of African Studies Centres in the Global North academics open opportunities for critical thinking on Africa or it opens possibilities for the emergence of the same discipline in Africa as a fertile space for trans disciplinary debate While approaches critical for the development of African Studies are pervasive in African universities through fields such as cultural studies social anthropology history sociology indigenous knowledge studies and African philosophy the discipline of African Studies though critical to Africa is rarely practised as such in the African academy and its future on the continent remains bleak African Studies in the Academy is a testimony that if honestly and objectively practised the crossroads position of African Studies as a discipline makes it a fertile ground for generating and testing new approaches critical for researching and understanding Africa It also challenges Africa to seriously consider assuming its legitimate position to champion African Studies from within These issues are at the heart of the present volume

Hope Deferred Peter Orner, Annie Holmes, 2015-10-01 The situation in Zimbabwe represents one of the worst humanitarian emergencies today This book asks the question How did a country with so much promise a stellar education system a growing middle class a sophisticated economic infrastructure a liberal constitution an independent judiciary and many of the trappings of Western democracy go so wrong In their own words Zimbabweans recount their experiences of losing their homes land livelihoods and families as a direct result of political violence They describe being tortured in detention firebombed at work or beaten up or raped to punish votes for the opposition Those forced to flee to neighboring countries recount their escapes cutting through fences swimming across crocodile infested rivers and entrusting themselves to human smugglers This book includes Zimbabweans of every age class and political conviction from farm laborers to academics doctors to artists opposition leaders to ordinary Zimbabweans men and women simply trying to survive as a once thriving nation heads for collapse

Intellectual Property Policy, Law and Administration in Africa Caroline B. Ncube, 2015-10-16 This book examines the harmonisation of Intellectual Property IP policy law and administration in Africa Two recent developments have brought this topic to the fore The first is the escalation of long standing efforts to establish a Pan African Intellectual Property Organisation PAIPO a continental initiative The second is the current sub regional attempt to operationalise the IP provisions of the Southern African Development Community SADC's Protocol on Trade articles 9b and 24 and its Protocol on Science Technology and Innovation article 2m

Intellectual Property Policy Law and Administration in Africa discusses the viability of such initiatives with particular reference to the current socio economic status of Africa s nations With a view to contributing to future developments in Africa at both a continental and sub regional level the author considers this issue through the lens of advancing the public interest in IP Ncube argues that harmonisation initiatives ought to be crafted in a way that is supportive of the development aspirations of African states Consequently she urges due consideration of individual states unique conditions and aspirations in any harmonisation venture a necessity outlined in article 7 of the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights This book will be of great relevance to scholars and policy makers with an interest in IP law and African law in general

Pest Management in Cotton Graham A. Matthews,Thomas A. Miller,2021-12-23 This book presents a global overview of the background to and the current state of crop protection and pest management in cotton crops Cotton is one of the most economically important crops in the world and has been grown for centuries but maintaining high yields of good quality requires sophisticated approaches to pest management The introduction and use of pesticides over the decades significantly increased cotton yields but lead to many adverse environmental impacts Over time new and alternative insecticides were developed but overuse has enabled pests to develop significant resistance The development of genetically modified cotton varieties with toxins derived from Bacillus thuringiensis enabled much improved control of lepidopteran larvae including bollworms but as the toxins had no effect on sucking pests farmers had no choice but to continue using insecticides Also some of the new cotton varieties developed in recent times have not adapted to different climatic conditions and the quality of cotton fibre declined as a result This book shows the need for more research to select cotton varieties with high quality fibres suitable for different cotton growing areas and to develop integrated pest management strategies to minimise the use of pesticides It also demonstrates the need for an inter disciplinary approach bringing together plant breeders entomologists plant pathologists agronomists and agricultural engineers to achieve high yields of high quality cotton Anthropology and mysticism in the making of initiation Andy Hilton, 2023-09-14 By the 1980s interest in initiation was at its peak it was being employed both theoretically and practically in gender politics and humanistic therapy How did that come to be how should we understand initiation and what can be its future This wide ranging book looks at the history evolution and contemporary idea of initiation It traces origins in the ancient Mysteries and early Christian texts through Renaissance rediscoveries to admission in Freemasonry and anthropological investigations in French Canada and British Australia It introduces the initiation discourse as something that was constructed through centuries of translations and nineteenth century human science leading to the making of the modern concept It argues for a subject initiation studies that effectively secularised the eighteenth century rites of admission to produce the twentieth century rites of passage And it details as compensation for this hollowing out of the mystery the study of shaman spirit workers the idea of death and rebirth and the later sacralisation of the liminal in adolescent adult initiation Finally a contemporary revision is explored that incorporates neglected aspects like depth psychology and education for an idea of youth as a life stage And while ritual is now deemphasised the religious dimension is reaffirmed with a critical analysis of cosmic consciousness the enduring Great Mystery
