Adapting Gender and Development to Local Religious Contexts Romina Istratii, 2020-10-01 This book provides a critical and decolonial analysis of gender and development theory and practice in religious societies through the presentation of a detailed ethnographic study of conjugal violence in Ethiopia Responding to recent consensus that gender mainstreaming approaches have failed to produce their intended structural changes Romina Istratii explains that gender and development analytical and theoretical frameworks are often constructed through western Euro centric lenses ill equipped to understand gender related realities and human behaviour in non western religious contexts and knowledge systems Instead Istratii argues for an approach to gender sensitive research and practice which is embedded in insiders conceptual understandings as a basis to theorise about gender assess the possible gendered underpinnings of local issues and design appropriate alleviation strategies Drawing on a detailed study of conjugal abuse realities and attitudes in two villages and the city of Aksum in Northern Ethiopia she demonstrates how religious knowledge can be engaged in the design and implementation of remedial interventions This book carefully evidences the importance of integrating religious traditions and spirituality in current discussions of sustainable development in Africa and speaks to researchers and practitioners of gender religion and development in Africa scholars of non western Christianities and Ethiopian studies and domestic violence researchers and practitioners

Death of a Discipline? Reflections on the History, State, and Future of Social Anthropology in Zimbabwe Munyaradzi Mawere, Artwell Nhemachena, 2017-08-08 This is a book on the state of social anthropology as an academic discipline in contemporary Zimbabwe The authors are frustrated and disheartened by a problematic visibility and sluggish growth of the discipline in the country The book makes an important claim that the future and vibrancy of anthropology in Zimbabwe lies in how well anthropologists in the country and in the diaspora are able to join efforts in articulating debating and enhancing its relevance and vitality The book provides critical overview and nuanced analyses of the role and continued relevance of the discipline in reading and interpreting the social unfolding of everyday life and dynamism It is a vital text for understanding and contextualising histories and trends in the development of social anthropology in Zimbabwe and how anthropologists in the country navigate the tumultuous waters and struggles that have engrossed the discipline since colonial times The book has the capacity to generate added insights and influence national continental and global debates and trends in the field

Religion and COVID-19 Vaccination in Zimbabwe Tenson Muyambo, Fortune Sibanda, Ezra Chitando, 2023-10-17 This book analyses the role of religion during the COVID 19 pandemic and vaccination rollout in Zimbabwe Zimbabwe was listed by the World Health Organization WHO as one of thirteen African countries to have fully vaccinated more than 10% of its population against COVID 19 by the end of September 2021 but the country fell far short of the government's own target for achieving 60% inoculation by December 2020 This book analyses whether religion played a role in explaining why the government's pro vaccine stance did not translate into high vaccination rates Drawing upon various religions including African indigenous religions Christianity and Islam the book considers how faith actors demonstrated vaccine acceptance resistance or hesitancy Zimbabwe offers a particularly interesting and varied case for analysis and the original research on display here will be an important contribution to wider debates on religion and COVID 19 This book will be useful to academics researchers and students studying religious studies sociology health and well being religion and development

Re-Envisioning and Restructuring Blended Learning for Underprivileged Communities Bosch, Chantelle, Laubscher, Dorothy Joy, Kyei-Blankson, Lydia, 2021-05-14 Challenges in the educational arena are not new phenomena However with the recent outbreak of the COVID 19 pandemic researchers and educators have been made even more aware of the need for a paradigm shift in education Blended learning as opposed to fully online learning or traditional face to face teaching has been well researched and has been found to have the potential to provide better educational solutions in challenging contexts These contexts range from pandemic situations where social distancing is the order of the day to financial and time constraints regarding full time study as well as limited physical capacity at institutions Blended learning solutions are often designed for resourceful institutions and cannot be easily implemented in developing countries and in communities where resources are limited Typical issues like connectivity accessibility lack of suitable devices and affordability need to be taken into consideration and in cognizance of blended learning interventions These challenges are often neglected in blended learning research but are critical discussions to be had Re Envisioning and Restructuring Blended Learning for Underprivileged Communities shares how institutions in the developing world and less privileged communities have re imagined and restructured blended education to enhance teaching and learning for underprivileged communities This book aims to address blended learning solutions across institutional program course and activity levels The chapters will cover a variety of learning environments from rural settings to less developed countries and more and explore the programs and courses designed to improve student success and accessibility in diverse student populations This book is ideally intended for teachers administrators teacher educators practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students who are interested in blended learning opportunities in less privileged settings and to underserved and marginalized populations

Study of Religion in Southern Africa Johannes Smit,Pratap Kumar,2018-08-14 This collection of essays is brought together in the honour of Gerhardus Cornelis Pippin Oosthuizen on his eighty third birthday Pippin has been one of the most significant religion researchers and prolific Humanities publishers South Africa has ever produced Among his friends and colleagues are some of the most important scholars of religion in South Africa and elsewhere With his critical acumen and insightful understanding of the ebb and flow of the South African socio political landscape of the last fifty odd years he has been a distinguished leader in research and has been honoured with Honorary doctorates from South Africa s leading universities This collection constitutes a small token of appreciation for his more than fifty years in academia and his academic leadership Religion and Development in Africa Ezra Chitando,Masiwa Ragies Gunda ,Lovemore Togarasei,2020-06-09 What is development Who defines that one community country is developed while another community country is under developed What is the relationship between religion and development Does religion contribute to development or underdevelopment in Africa These and related questions elicit quite charged reactions in African studies development studies political science and related fields Africa s own history including the memory of marginalisation slavery and exploitation by global powers ensures that virtually every discussion on development is characterised by a lot of emotions and conflicting views In this volume scholars from various African countries and many different religions and denominations contribute to this debate Ancient and Indigenous Wisdom Traditions in African and Euro-Asian Contexts Ehaab Abdou, Theodore Zervas, 2024-08-01 This book brings attention to the understudied and often overlooked question of how curricula and classroom practices might inadvertently reproduce exclusionary discourses and narratives that omit or negate particular cultures histories and wisdom traditions With a focus on representations and classroom practices related especially to ancient and Indigenous wisdom traditions and cultures it includes unique contributions from scholars studying these questions in various contexts The book offers a range of important studies from key African and Euro Asian contexts including Afghanistan Albania Greece Iran South Africa Sweden T rkiye and Zimbabwe The various chapter contributions address and discuss nuances of each of the contexts under study The contributions also help highlight some key commonalities across these contexts including how dominant discourses and various forces have historically shaped and continue to shape and reproduce such omissions misrepresentations and marginalization In addition to seeking to reconcile with some of these ancient and Indigenous wisdom traditions and cultures the book charts a path forward towards more holistic analytical frameworks as well as more inclusive and balanced representations and classroom practices in these aforementioned geographic contexts and beyond It will appeal to scholars researchers undergraduate and graduate students with interests in Indigenous education curriculum studies citizenship education history of education religion and educational policy

Women and Religion in Zimbabwe Ezra Chitando, Kudzai Biri, Sophia Chirongoma, 2022-07-07 The chapters in this volume foreground the ambivalent role of religion and culture when it comes to African women s health and well being Reflecting on the three major religions in Africa i e African Indigenous Religions Christianity and Islam the authors illustrate how religious beliefs and practices can either enhance or hinder women s holistic progress and development With a specific focus on Zimbabwean women s experiences of religion and culture the volume discusses how African Indigenous Religions Christianity and Islam tend to privilege men and understate the value of women in Africa Adopting diverse theological ideological and political positions contributors to this volume restate the fact that the key teachings of different religions often suppressed due to patriarchal influences are a potent resource in the quest for gender justice In sync with the goals for gender justice and women empowerment envisioned in the United Nations Agenda 2030 and Africa Agenda 2063 the contributors advocate for gender inclusive and life enhancing interpretations of religious and cultural traditions in Africa
