Tourism, Change and the Global South Jarkko Saarinen,Jayne M. Rogerson,2021-06-16 This significant volume is the first to focus on both the changing nature of tourism and the capacity of tourism to effect change especially in the Global South Geographically this changing nature of tourism is based on the transforming relationships between demand supply and location While this is nothing new in tourism recent decades have intensified the changing characteristics of global tourism From another perspective tourism represents a change and nowadays many localities and regions aim to use tourism as a tool for positive change i e development However this has turned out to be a challenging task in practice especially in the Global South context where the relationship between tourism growth and local development has often been controversial This book looks at a host of critical concepts in one volume such as growth and development adaptation and resilience sustainability and responsibility governance and planning and heritage and destination management strategies By understanding the drivers of change this book sheds new insight into the promise and role of sustainability and responsibility in tourism development This book will be of great interest to all upper level students academics and researchers in the fields of Tourism Geography and Cultural and Heritage studies

Financial Crises, Poverty and Environmental Sustainability: Challenges in the Context of the SDGs and Covid-19 Recovery Andreas Antoniadis,Alexander S. Antonarakis,Isabell Kempf,2022-01-03 This volume advances the state of the art in the study of the interplay among financial crises poverty dynamics and environmental sustainability It offers timely and unique contributions to the immediate global challenge of sustainable development Developing a new evidence base the volume offers concrete recommendations for policy action needed in advancing the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs in relation to environment and poverty during the current conditions of financial distress The approach taken is inductive and evidence driven Most analysis is based on in depth case studies that aim to offer a detailed and dynamic picture on how poverty and environmental sustainability interact in specific social contexts and financial crises In this way the volume aims to generate a wealth of new and concrete evidence that offer a solid foundation to understand the multiple channels through which social and environmental factors interact and the ways in which this interaction can and should be managed in order to achieve the needed global transition to sustainability Broader dynamics that are covered and analysed include the historical legacies of structural adjustment and colonialism the current debt wave experienced in developing countries the role of inequality the significant impact that climate change has on livelihoods and on meeting the SDGs the new challenge presented by the Covid 19 pandemic for the SDGs the challenge of sustainable funding for SDGs and the need for a new eco social contract Case studies examined include Cambodia Ethiopia India Indonesia Zambia and subregions such as the Caribbean sub Saharan Africa and Lower Mekong Countries The volume is part of a joint initiative by the Sussex Sustainability Research Programme SSRP of the University of Sussex the UNDP UNEP Poverty Environment Action for Sustainable Development Goals and the United Nations Research Institute for Social Development UNRISD The overall aim is to advance a new research programme and foster a better understanding of the multiple complex and often opposing ways through which the punctuated economic slowdown of financial crises poverty dynamics and environmental sustainability interact It also makes novel recommendations into how poverty reduction and environment can work in synergy rather than being antagonistic especially during financial distress leading into recommendations directly geared towards achieving the SDGs and beyond

Food Safety Standards in International Trade Onsando Osiemo,2016-09-15 Food safety has become a major concern for consumers in the developed world and Europe in particular This has been highlighted by the recent spate of food scares ranging from the BSE mad cow crisis to Chinese melamine contamination of baby formula To ensure food safety throughout Europe stringent food safety standards have been put in place from farm to fork At the same time poor African countries in the COMESA rely on their food exports to the European market to achieve their development goals yet have difficulty meeting the EU food safety standards This book examines the impact of EU food safety standards on food imports from COMESA countries It also critically examines both EU and COMESA food safety standards in light of the WTO SPS Agreement and the jurisprudence of the WTO panels and Appellate Body The book makes ground breaking proposals on how the standards divide between the EU and the COMESA can be bridged and discusses the impact of EU food safety standards on food imports from poor African countries
