This study pairs selected Irish and British women novelists of three periods relating their voices to the women s movements in their respective nations In the first wave nationalist and militant ideologies competed with the suffrage fight in Ireland Elizabeth Bowen s The Last September illustrates the melancholy of gender performance and confusion of ethnic identity in the dying Anglo Irish Ascendancy class In England suffrage ideologies clashed with socialism and patriotism Virginia Woolf s Mrs Dalloway contains a political unconscious that links its characters across class and gender In the second wave heterosexual romantic relationships come under scrutiny Edna O'Brien s Country Girls trilogy reveals ways in which Irish Catholic ideologies abject femaleness her characters internalize this abjection to the point of self destruction Doris Lessing s The Golden Notebook pits the protagonist s aspirations to write novels against the Communist Party s prohibitions on bourgeois values In the third wave Irish writers express the frustrations of their cultural identity Nuala O Faolain s My Dream of You takes her protagonist back to Ireland to heal her psychic wounds In England Thatcherism had created a materialistic culture that eroded many feminists socialist values Fay Weldon s Big Woman satirizes the demise of second wave idealism asking where feminism can go from here Reading by Numbers Katherine Bode,2012-07-01 Reading by

Numbers Recalibrating the Literary Field is the first book to use digital humanities strategies to integrate the scope and methods of book and publishing history with issues and debates in literary studies By mining visualising and modelling data from AustLit an online bibliography of Australian literature that leads the world in its comprehensiveness and scope this study revises established conceptions of Australian literary history presenting new ways of writing about literature and publishing and a new direction for digital humanities research The case studies in this book offer insight into a wide range of features of the literary field including trends and cycles in the gender of novelists the formation of fictional genres and literary canons and the relationship of Australian literature to other national literatures This Is Her Century Doaa

Abdelhafez Hamada,2014-07-24 This book is a study of the works of Margaret Walker 1915 1998 in chronological order in the social and intellectual context of twentieth century America Walker is a writer who is known by name for her works however very little criticism is written on her literary contributions This is the first monograph on Walker s work by a single author and is an attempt to establish the importance of Walker s representation of twentieth century America against its critical obscurity This book shows that Walker is a woman writer who slipped to the margins of the African American literary canon for improper reasons Material presented in this study is based on research on available criticism published on Walker s work It is also based on research on the social intellectual and political aspects of twentieth century America This text also incorporates information derived from the researcher s close reading of Walker s work It argues that issues of race gender and class are always connected in twentieth century America and in Walker s work as reflective of this century in America It also argues that Walker s feminist consciousness develops from one work to another until it reaches its peak in her later poetry Celebrity and the Feminist Blockbuster Anthea Taylor,2017-02-21 In the first book length study of celebrity feminism Anthea Taylor convincingly argues that the most visible feminists in the mediasphere have been authors of bestselling works of non fiction feminist blockbusters Celebrity and The Feminist Blockbuster explores how the authors of these popular feminist books have shaped the public identity of modern feminism in some cases over many decades

Maintaining a distinction between women who are famous because of their feminism and those who later add feminism to their brand Taylor contends that Western celebrity feminism as a political mode of public subjectivity cannot in any simple way be seen as homologous with other forms of stardom Moving deftly from the 1960s to the present focusing on how feminist authors have actively worked to manufacture their public personas she demonstrates that the blockbuster remains crucial to feminist celebrification but is now often augmented with digital media Advancing celebrity studies by placing the figure of the feminist front and centre Celebrity and the Feminist Blockbuster is essential reading for all those interested in gender popular feminism and the politics of renown Women, Theory, Praxis, and Performativities Jacqueline
