Encyclopedia of Adaptations in the Natural World Adam Simmons,2009-12-09 This is a fascinating encyclopedia comparing the most important adaptations and evolutions in the natural world with the most important discoveries and inventions of human history Welcome to the amazing world of adaptations where species including humans develop fascinating new capabilities to ensure a competitive edge in their environment or in some cases survival itself Encyclopedia of Adaptations in the Natural World is a wide ranging catalog of the most important of those adaptations from photosynthesis to the the peculiar vampire like behavior of the tiny life form called the prion The seven chapters in the Encyclopedia cover the key survival challenges all organisms face Entries within those chapters cover specific adaptations from all forms of life including animals plants bacteria algae fungi and viruses For each adaptation the book also describes a related technological breakthrough in the human world showing how engineers today study natural processes to help them develop new inventions

The Races of Man: An Outline of Anthropology and Ethnography Joseph Deniker,2020-09-28 The innumerable groups of mankind massed together or scattered according to the varying nature of the earth s surface are far from presenting a homogeneous picture Every country has its own variety of physical type language manners and customs Thus in order to exhibit a systematic view of all the peoples of the earth it is necessary to observe a certain order in the study of these varieties and to define carefully what is meant by such and such a descriptive term having reference either to the physical type or to the social life of men This we shall do in the subsequent chapters as we proceed to develop this slight sketch of the chief general facts of the physical and psychical life of man and of the most striking social phenomena of the groups of mankind But there are some general terms which are of more importance than others and their meaning should be clearly understood from the first I refer to expressions like people nation tribe race species in short all the designations of the different groupings real or theoretic of human beings Having defined them we shall by so doing define the object of our studies Since ethnography and anthropology began to exist as sciences an attempt has been made to determine and establish the great groups amongst which humanity might be divided A considerable diversity of opinion however exists among leading scientific men not only as to the number of these groups of these primordial divisions of the human race but above all as to the very nature of these groups Their significance most frequently is very vaguely indicated In zoology when we proceed to classify we have to do with beings which in spite of slight individual differences are easily grouped around a certain number of types with well defined characters called species An animal can always be found which will represent the type of its species In all the great zoological collections there exist these species types to which individuals may be compared in order to decide if they belong to the supposed species We have then in zoology a real substratum for the determination of species those primordial units which are grouped afterwards in genera families orders etc American Homoeopathist ,1901
