Zimbabwe Operational Plan Report Fy 2013 Aids Relief:

Evaluation of PEPFAR Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Institute of Medicine, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Board on Global Health, Committee on the Outcome and Impact Evaluation of Global HIV/AIDS Programs Implemented Under the Lantos-Hyde Act of 2008, 2013-06-27 The U S government supports programs to combat global HIV AIDS through an initiative that is known as the President s Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief PEPFAR This initiative was originally authorized in the U S Leadership Against HIV AIDS Tuberculosis and Malaria Act of 2003 and focused on an emergency response to the HIV AIDS pandemic to deliver lifesaving care and treatment in low and middle income countries LMICs with the highest burdens of disease It was subsequently reauthorized in the Tom Lantos and Henry J Hyde U S Global Leadership Against HIV AIDS Tuberculosis and Malaria Reauthorization Act of 2008 the Lantos Hyde Act Evaluation of PEPFAR makes recommendations for improving the U S government s bilateral programs as part of the U S response to global HIV AIDS The overall aim of this evaluation is a forward looking approach to track and anticipate the evolution of the U S response to global HIV to be positioned to inform the ability of the U S government to address key issues under consideration at the time of the report release Making Development Co-operation More Effective 2016 Progress Report OECD, United Nations Development Programme, 2016-11-03 This report draws on the results of the 2016 global monitoring exercise carried out under the auspices of the Global Partnership for Effective Development Co operation It offers a snapshot of progress on internationally agreed principles aimed at making development co operation more effective Sub-Saharan Africa Ms. Janet Gale Stotsky, Ms. Lisa Kolovich, Suhaib Kebhaj, 2016-08-20 Gender budgeting is an initiative to use fiscal policy and administration to address gender inequality and women s advancement A large number of sub Saharan African countries have adopted gender budgeting Two countries that have achieved notable success in their efforts are Uganda and Rwanda both of which have integrated gender oriented goals into budget policies programs and processes in fundamental ways Other countries have made more limited progress in introducing gender budgeting into their budget making Leadership by the ministry of finance is critical for enduring effects although nongovernmental organizations and parliamentary bodies in sub Saharan Africa play an essential role in advocating for gender budgeting Zimbabwe Operational Plan Report Fy 2013 United States United States Department of State, 2014-11-12 The country continues to experience a generalized HIV epidemic with an estimated 1.2 million HIV infected adults and children in 2011 and approximately 58 000 deaths each year Social cultural and economic factors contributing to HIV transmission include transactional sex multiple and concurrent partners alcohol abuse low awareness of HIV infection status lack of ART use in undiagnosed individuals poor treatment adherence and low levels of male circumcision MC While prevalence among youth has dropped significantly it is worth noting that prevalence among girls was twice that of boys of the same age HIV is the leading cause of death among adults and accounts for over 27% of all deaths among mothers and infants Maternal mortality rate nearly tripled between 1994 and

2010 Zimbabwe's TB case rate 603 per 100 000 is one of the highest in the world. The TB epidemic in Zimbabwe is largely HIV driven with a very high TB/HIV co-infection rate at 80% with an increasing number of MDR and XDR cases. TB is the second leading cause of adult morbidity and mortality in Zimbabwe. National Response: The National AIDS Council (NAC) and the Ministry of Health and Child Welfare (MOHCW) lead the national HIV/AIDS response and have outlined their goals in Zimbabwe National Strategic Plan ZNASPII 2011-2015. While the level of institutional leadership within the MOHCW is high in terms of technical direction and policy setting, the capacity for implementation continues to be limited. For the MOHCW, low capacity is largely an outcome of limited national resources for programming which affects its capacity to deploy and adequately train sufficient experienced health professionals, provide adequate commodities and provide a high level of monitoring and supervision to ensure high quality service delivery. As such, donor resources have been essential to national prevention, care, treatment and health systems strengthening (HSS) efforts. The majority of HIV/AIDS related activities are donor funded. Nevertheless, Zimbabwe has not received the magnitude of donor funding that countries with similar HIV burden have been fortunate to access. Zimbabwe is facing potential critical shortages of key inputs to achieve ambitious goals particularly in the areas of treatment, prevention of mother to child transmission (PMTCT) and MCH. Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015, Volumes 1a & 1b (Set) Union of International Associations, 2014-06-16. Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims, activities and events. Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh, 2010-04-16. Ethiopia Operational Plan Report FY 2013 United States Department of State, 2014-11-12. With 82 million people, Ethiopia is the second most populous country in Sub-Saharan Africa. Despite impressive economic growth, Ethiopia remains a low income country with a real per capita income of US$ 351 and 39% of the population living below the international poverty line of $1.25 a day. According to the UN Human Development Index 2012, Ethiopia ranks 174 out of 187 countries on both the overall index and the per capita GNI. Gross National Income. It is also one of the least urbanized countries with 82% of the population living in rural areas. In 2010, Ethiopia launched a five year Growth and Transformation Plan (GTP) which envisages an annual Gross Domestic Product (GDP) base growth case scenario of 11% and a high growth case scenario of 14.9%. Improving the quality of social services and infrastructure, ensuring macroeconomic stability and enhancing productivity in agriculture and manufacturing are major objectives of the plan. The high growth rate has been offset by high inflation in recent years. Year on year inflation peaked at 64% in July 2008, the second highest in Sub-Saharan Africa after Zimbabwe. In 2012, the situation had apparently improved as the inflation rate had dropped from 35.9% in January to 15.6% by December 2012. The Health Sector Development Plan IV (HSDPIV) and the Strategic Plan for Intensifying Multisectoral HIV and AIDS Response (SPMII) outline their contributions towards the GTP. The death a few months back of Prime Minister Meles has led to a change in leadership. The new Minister of Health leads a young team and is looking to develop his own legacy after the charismatic leadership of the former Minister Dr Tewodros Adhanom who became

Foreign Minister in December 2012 The HIV AIDS situation in Ethiopia continues to be characterized by a mixed epidemic with significant heterogeneity across geographic areas urban vs rural and population groups The 2011 Ethiopia Demographic and Health Survey EDHS found HIV prevalence at 1.5% nationally compared to 2.4% according to the formerly accepted Single Point Estimate Comparison with 2005 EDHS data suggest stable low HIV prevalence of 0.6% in rural areas but substantial declines from 7.7% to 4.2% in urban areas Routine biannual antenatal surveillance confirms sustained declines in HIV prevalence in both urban and peri urban areas up through the most recent estimate published for 2009 There are contrasts in prevalence across regions ranging from 6.5% in Gambella and 5.2% in Addis Ababa to 0.9% in SNNP residence types 4.2% urban versus 0.6% rural and gender 1.9% for women vs 1.0% for men Prevalence among 15-24 years has also significantly declined from 12.4% in 2001 to 2.6% in 2009 SPECTRUM projections combining DHS and ANC data estimate a rapidly declining mixed epidemic where incidence has fallen to 0.03% a 60% reduction since the introduction of PEPFAR in Ethiopia in 2005 Only Gambella region in southwestern Ethiopia with less than 0.5 percent of Ethiopia's population of 82 million showed a net increase in HIV prevalence over the same period and a worrying 9% prevalence among women aged 15-24 years At the same time projected national incidence rates were substantially lower than previously estimated with just over 20,000 new cases in 2012 compared to over 134,000 according to the former Single Point Estimate although the country retains a substantial burden for secondary prevention and treatment with an estimated 734,000 people currently living with HIV in 2013 According to SPECTRUM 70% of projected new infections in 2013 will come from sexual transmission which is disproportionately low compared with other countries This may be attributable to the relative successes with prevention of sexual transmission and high treatment coverage compared with relative lack of success with prevention of vertical transmission
