Extractive Industry Indigenisation in

Zimbabwe Kennedy Manduna, 2025-09-25 This book explains how and why Zimbabwe s extractive industry Indigenisation over promised its benefits yet under delivered upon implementation This book traces the history of uneven development in Zimbabwe from the initial days of colonialism to the present using the extractive industry as the unit of analysis to carve out a granular and empirical analysis of the preponderance of transnational corporate control and ownership in the country Indigenisation of Zimbabwe s extractive industries was intended to address mining inequalities by transferring wealth from rich non Indigenous mining capital to disadvantaged Indigenous citizens and communities This policy however was a response to political economic and social crises posed by the international isolation of Zimbabwe s government following the controversial Fast Track Land Reform Programme in 2000 2003 An intervention therefore which promised to address inequalities has thus been hampered by corruption co optation and collusion which has led to it not only failing to address uneven development but in actual fact worsening the situation By examining the hidden structures and infrastructures of power capital and minerals and placing extractive industry Indigenisation in capitalism this book makes a crucial scholarly contribution to the renewed and burgeoning debates around the resurgence of resource nationalism in general and the struggle for economic sovereignty in particular This book steers readers more broadly to look for new and diversified ways of empowering Indigenous populations and their communities through mining Indigenisation in ways that do not threaten economic and political stability This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of the extractive industries natural resource management African politics and African development Minerals Yearbook Geological Survey, Interior

Liberation and Corruption Peter Hain, 2025-10-28 Why are liberation and independence movements often betrayed when their leaders get into government This question has haunted Peter Hain for decades A lifelong activist and politician Hain has over 50 years experience of battling corruption from his early days as a freedom fighter against apartheid to his time as a UK Labour MP cabinet minister and sitting member of the House of Lords He offers a gripping exploration of why movements born from the ideals of justice and freedom often succumb to bad governance and corruption once in power Combining rigorous analysis with well sourced evidence this book examines global examples ranging from Africa to Latin America Russia the Caribbean China and India With the unique perspective of having navigated both the streets of protest and the corridors of power Hain reflects on the challenges of staying true to the values of liberation struggles while confronting their disappointing outcomes Thought provoking and accessible this book is an essential read for anyone engaged in the fight for a better world

Sustainable Development in Africa Walter Leal Filho,Rudi Pretorius,Luiza Olim de Sousa,2021-07-09 This book serves the purpose of documenting and promoting African experiences on sustainable development which encompasses both formal and non formal education Sustainable development is very important to Africa but there is a paucity of publication which documents and promotes experiences from African countries Due to their complexity the interrelations between social economic and political factors related to sustainable development especially at universities need to be better understood There is also a real need to showcase successful examples of how African institutions are handling their sustainability challenges It is against this background that this book has been produced It is a truly interdisciplinary publication useful to scholars social movements practitioners and members of governmental agencies and private companies undertaking research and or executing projects focusing on sustainability from across Africa As African nations strive to pursue the UN Sustainable Development Goals it is imperative to cater for the information needs seen across the continent and foster the dissemination of experiences and case studies which may support both on going and future efforts The scope of the book is deliberately kept wide and we are looking for contributions across the spectrum of sustainable development from business and economics to arts and fashion administration environment languages and media studies
