Management Implementation in Higher Education: Practices, Models, and Case Studies Sony, Michael, Karingada, Kochu Therisa, Baporikar, Neeta, 2019-08-02 Although initially utilized in business and industrial environments quality management systems can be adapted into higher education to assess and improve an institution's standards These strategies are now playing a vital role in educational areas such as teaching learning and institutional level practices However quality management tools and models must be adapted to fit with the culture of higher education Quality Management

Implementation in Higher Education Practices Models and Case Studies is a pivotal reference source that explores the challenges and solutions of designing quality management models in the current educational culture Featuring research on topics such as Lean Six Sigma distance education and student supervision this book is ideally designed for school board members administrators deans policymakers stakeholders professors graduate students education professionals and researchers seeking current research on the applications and success factors of quality management systems in various facets of higher education Acid Mine Drainage and its Governance in the Gauteng City-Region Kerry Bobbins, 2015-05-29

Acid mine drainage AMD has generated an enormous amount of media interest and public concern in the Gauteng City Region GCR over the last decade However it has been framed as a narrow technical concern with government action being directed towards securing the necessary engineering and processing solutions as quickly as possible to prevent decant and treat acid mine water to industrial standards This has arguably limited the scope for full discussion and debate on the impacts of AMD particularly for the environment and this bears implications for how AMD has been managed in the GCR Government's immediate short and long term interventions to address AMD have been set out as a straight forward solution but over time more complex environmental concerns have emerged Becoming more evident over the last few years is that one of the main impacts of AMD will be its effect on the overall water security in the Vaal River System VRS on which the GCR relies for its supply of potable water Limits on water abstraction from the VRS together with the increasing need to maintain the overall water quality in the system through dilution and treatment activities means that AMD is beginning to manifest as a binding constraint on economic development and a burden on society in particular via escalating costs for water consumers Fiscal constraints are likely to see GCR residents and businesses pick up more and more of the costs associated with the treatment of AMD through the format of increased municipal tariffs With final decisions on municipal tariffs now pending the broader yet invisible impacts of AMD loom large This means that the debate has moved far beyond the issue of predicted decant in each of the Witwatersrand's mining basins Water security for the GCR and who will carry the costs associated with the long term treatment of AMD have instead taken centre stage This paper carefully updates the historical record on AMD since the publishing of a GCRO Provocation on the issue in 2010 In doing so it argues that the way in which AMD has been governed raises a flag around how the political economy of an issue such as AMD should be understood publicly debated and managed In particular it suggests that the governance of an environmental challenge such as AMD is not only about finding a technical solution The lack of platforms to ensure well informed public deliberation especially over such issues as who will pay and how must be addressed to ensure more equitable and transparent decision making In light of the broader mine waste legacy inherited by the GCR and the strong likelihood of environmental contamination becoming more commonplace in the future these concerns are not only limited to AMD They will only grow in importance over time

The Oxford Handbook of the South African Economy Arkebe Oqubay, Fiona Tregenna, Imraan Valodia, 2021-11-18 While sharing some characteristics with other middle income countries South Africa is a country with a unique economic history and distinctive economic features It is a regional economic powerhouse that plays a significant role not only in southern Africa and in the continent but also as a member of BRICS However there has been a lack of structural transformation and weak economic growth and South Africa faces the profound triple challenges of poverty inequality and unemployment Any meaningful debate about economic policies to address these challenges needs to be informed by a deep understanding of historical developments robust empirical evidence and rigorous analysis of South Africa's complex economic landscape This volume seeks to provide a wide ranging set of original detailed and state of the art analytical perspectives that contribute to scientific knowledge as well as to well informed and productive discourse on the South African economy While concentrating on the more recent economic issues facing South Africa the handbook also provides historical and political context It offers an in depth examination of strategic issues in the country's key economic sectors and brings together diverse analytical perspectives

South Africa's Energy Transition Andrew Lawrence, 2019-08-30 This book provides a succinct overview of the evolution of policies addressing energy and climate justice in South Africa Drawing on a range of analytical perspectives including socio technical studies just transitions and critical political economy it explains why South Africa's energy transition from a coal dependent centralised power generation and distribution system has been so slow and reveals the types of socio political inequalities that persist across regimes and energy sources Topics explored include critical approaches to the South African state and its state owned energy provider Eskom the political ecologies of coal and water the politics of non renewable energy alternatives as well as the trajectory and fate of the Renewable Energy Independent Power Producers Procurement Programme REIPPPP the country's major renewable energy policy The book concludes with reflections on alternative neglected energy and development paths suggesting how the political economy of South Africa's energy system could be further transformed for the better

How to Manage Project Stakeholders Pascal Bohulu Mabelo, 2020-04-16 This book outlines how to identify stakeholders analyse their stakes and plan and implement an engagement strategy to secure relevant input and dependable buy in to assure the successful delivery of Large Infrastructure Projects It also addresses common stakeholder management inadequacies and is supplemented with four extended practical exercises to help readers apply the principles to their own large complex projects and ensure project success The project management industry particularly the Large Infrastructure Projects domain has only recently awakened to the reality that failed Stakeholder Management probably leads to a failure of the project altogether Due to the complexities involved most traditional approaches to managing stakeholders have developed serious difficulties in dealing with large and complex projects This book presents a Systems Thinking approach to managing stakeholders that accommodates these complexities and seeks to crystallise the notion that managing projects means managing stakeholders while also introducing an ethical perspective i.e stakeholders have legitimate rights regardless of their power to influence the project This shifts the paradigm from Management of Stakeholders to Management for Stakeholders It is essential reading for all those involved with managing large projects including project managers sponsors and executives It will also be useful for advanced students of project management and systems engineering looking to understand and expand their knowledge of infrastructure projects and Systems Engineering

South Africa's water governance hydraulic mission (1912-2008) in a WEF-Nexus context Johann W.N. Tempelhoff, 2018-12-01 Geologists physicists and ecologists currently promote the idea of a post Holocene epoch the Anthropocene As a result of constant innovation and modernisation in the fields of engineering natural science management studies and environmental studies there has been a growing awareness of the intrinsic interaction between humankind and the environment Humankind has become part of the environmental dynamics to the extent that they are literally able to change ecosystems Nowhere is the impact more evident than in the anthropogenic engagement with the hydrosphere from the smallest pool of water to the earth's atmosphere Comprehensive infrastructure development in water and sanitation the growing trend to seek additional resources in the form of groundwater desalinated seawater and recycled wastewater as well as special attention being given to capturing and preserving rainwater bear evidence of a timely response to climate change population growth and rapid development in many water stressed regions of the world The purpose of the book is to provide a historical overview of the manner in which South Africa's water resources have been governed from a time when the Union of South Africa was formed in 1910 up to 2008 a time of a growing global awareness of the potential impact that climate change may have on water resources in a key region of southern Africa notable for increasing levels of aridity and more erratic rainfall patterns This focus on the history of water affairs in South Africa makes it possible for scholars to comprehend the contemporary transitions made in the country's water governance system since the establishment in 2014 of the Department of Water and Sanitation The focus is on the Water Energy Food nexus a strategy which holistically contemplates the governance and use of water from the perspective of the interconnection between water energy and food as resources

BRICS and the New American Imperialism Vishwas Satgar, Ferriell Adam, Samir Amin, Patrick Bond, William K Carroll, Christopher Chase-Dunn, Alexander Gallas, Ana Garcia, Karina Kato, Nivedita Majumdar, Keamogetswe Seipato, 2020-03-01 Challenges the mainstream understanding of BRICS and US dominance to situate the new global rivalries engulfing capitalism BRICS is a grouping of the five major emerging economies of Brazil Russia India China and South Africa Volume five in the Democratic Marxism series BRICS and the New American Imperialism challenges the mainstream understanding of BRICS and US dominance to situate the new global rivalries engulfing capitalism It offers novel analyses of BRICS in the context of increasing US induced imperial chaos deepening

environmental crisis tendencies such as climate change and water scarcity contradictory dynamics inside BRICS countries and growing subaltern resistance The authors revisit contemporary thinking on imperialism and anti imperialism drawing on the work of Rosa Luxemburg one of the leading theorists after Marx who attempted to understand the expansionary nature of capitalism from the heartlands to the peripheries The richness of Luxemburg s pioneering work inspires most of the volume s contributors in their analyses of the dangerous contradictions of the contemporary world as well as forms of democratic agency advancing resistance While various forms of resistance are highlighted among them water protests mass worker strikes anti corporate campaigning and forms of cultural critique this volume grapples with the challenge of renewing anti imperialism beyond the NGO driven World Social Forum and considers the prospects of a new horizontal political vessel to build global convergence It also explores the prospects of a Fifth International of Peoples and Workers
