The movie “Tomorrow When The War Began” teaches us about real life and often give us relevant life lessons. The film “Tomorrow When The War Began” (2010) directed by Stuart Beattie is set in a small Australian town. When avading force rob people of their innocence and freedom. A group of teenagers remains free and fight to save their friends, family and town. Stuart Beattie uses his film to show the important idea that your life could change in a moment, that in demanding situations you need to grow up quickly and that family and friends are important.

Firstly, one important idea in “Tomorrow When The War Began” is that your life can change in a moment. This idea shows in the sequences when Ellie and her friends return to town and find out that they became trapped into a war. The viewers see the low angle of Ellie fall down next to her dog and the close up and point of view of the death of Ellie’s dog, now make the viewers feel something unpredictable is happening. It’s also shown in the scene when Ellie and her friends sat around the fire camp at the night before. The long shot of Ellie and her friends cheers and laugh mirthfully. The atmosphere is so peaceful and euphoric that make the viewers had no idea what will happen next or had not expected they would be in danger. The viewers also hear the dramatic sound and drumming sound when Ellie finds out her dog died and everyone in town is missing. This shows the idea that life is full of surprises, you can not predict what will happen next to you, even if it’s the craziest thing and illogically. Like the night before they returned to town, they just like other teenagers, innocence and thought they have been protected by the government. They just soak up the peaceful atmosphere and have no idea what will happen to them. This idea is relevant to my life because life isn’t as safe and easy as we think. Before the incident, their life is so peaceful but after one night, everything had changed. Sometimes, we have to deal with unexpected situations.
