tragically flawed Ferebee was president of the Alpha Kappa Alpha black service sorority and later became the president of the powerful National Council of Negro Women in the nascent civil rights era She stood up to gun toting plantation owners to bring health care to sharecroppers through her Mississippi Health Project during the Great Depression A household name in black America for forty years Ferebee was also the media darling of the thriving black press Ironically her fame and relevance faded as African Americans achieved the political power for which she had fought In She Can Bring Us Home

Meiser,2024-10-11 The restaurant industry is one of the few places in America where workers from lower class backgrounds can rise to positions of power and prestige Yet with over four million cooks and food preparation workers employed in America s restaurants not everyone makes it to the high status position of chef What factors determine who rises the ranks in this fiercely competitive pressure cooker environment Making It explores how the career path of restaurant workers depends on their accumulation of kitchen capital a cultural asset based not only on their ability to cook but also on how well they can fit into the workplace culture and negotiate its hierarchical structures After spending 120 hours working in a restaurant kitchen and interviewing fifty chefs and cooks from fine dining establishments and greasy spoon diners across the country sociologist Ellen Meiser discovers many strategies for accumulating kitchen capital For some it involves education and the performance of expertise others climb the ranks by controlling their own emotions or exerting control over coworkers Making It offers a close and personal look at how knowledge power and interpersonal skills come together to determine who succeeds and who fails in the high pressure world of the restaurant kitchen Reproductive Labor and Innovation

Jennifer Denbow,2024-09-27 In Reproductive Labor and Innovation Jennifer Denbow examines how the push toward technoscientific innovation in contemporary American life often comes at the expense of the care work and reproductive labor that is necessary for society to function Noting that the gutting of social welfare programs has shifted the burden of solving problems to individuals Denbow argues that the aggrandizement of innovation and the degradation of reproductive labor are intertwined facets of neoliberalism She shows that the construction of innovation as a panacea to social ills justifies the accumulation of wealth for corporate innovators and the impoverishment of those feminized and racialized people who do the bulk of reproductive labor Moreover even innovative technology aimed at reproduction such as digital care work platforms and noninvasive prenatal testing obscure structural injustices and further devalue reproductive labor By drawing connections between innovation discourse the rise of neoliberalism financialized capitalism and the social and political degradation of reproductive labor Denbow illustrates what needs to be done to destabilize the overvaluation of innovation and to offer collective support for reproduction Airplanes, the Environment, and the Human Condition Hans A.

Baer,2019-07-23 The number of airplane flights worldwide continues to grow and is one of the many drivers of climate change This book examines the aviation industry from an anthropological perspective focusing on the sector s environmental impact and the challenges facing attempts to shift to more sustainable solutions Hans Baer outlines how airplanes have become a key component of modern cultural and social life and how the world system has become increasingly dependent on them to function He critically examines current efforts to mitigate the climatic impact of the air travel and argues for a significant move away from air transport suggesting that such a shift may only be achieved through a more fundamental change in the world system Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Exploring decolonising themes in SA sport history Francois Johannes Cleophas,2018-01-01 In an effort to understand how the absences of the colonial subject in sport were engineered and how colonial narratives became fixed in the literature and minds of South Africans Exploring Decolonising Themes in SA Sport History Issues and Challenges attempts a full scale restructuring and rewriting of the history of sport in South Africa to include black South Africans and thereby places them on the forefront of a colonial history The book includes the articulations of academic researchers professionals and retired sportspeople who were requested to explore their unique areas of interest in sport from the perspective of themes in South African sport history They place themselves at the centre of discourses that dispel myths that blacks had no sport significance prior to 1994 The book ultimately challenges this spirit of the past where there was only one narrative a white male sport tradition Rather than adapting past colonial and apartheid narratives this work seeks to fundamentally replace and supersede them Society in Focus William E.
