Being and Becoming a Researcher in the Tourism, Travel and Hospitality Field Atila Yüksel, 2025-09-15 Despite the emphasis placed on disciplinary knowledge adaptability and research skills as pillars of academic rigor the process of researcher development particularly the transition from merely acquiring knowledge to embodying the role of a researcher has been largely overlooked contributing to high attrition rates among PhD students and early career researchers Possessing subject expertise and technical skills while necessary does not guarantee the intellectual emotional and existential growth required to navigate the complexities of academic life The process of becoming a researcher is not solely a matter of accumulating credentials but involves a deeper transformation one that prioritizes personal development and the expansion of consciousness This book explores both the theoretical and practical dimensions of researcher development offering a comprehensive framework that examines the transitions researchers undergo within both their internal and external environments It introduces the macro mezzo and micro information spheres of researcher development illustrating how individuals confront challenges navigate conflicts engage with contradictions and ultimately transform themselves through an evolving process of intellectual and personal growth By integrating these dimensions this book highlights the necessity of moving beyond mechanistic models of researcher training toward a more holistic approach that acknowledges the role of consciousness expansion in sustaining meaningful academic engagement
