1. The first step in the process of developing a new product is to identify a market need. This is often done through market research, which can involve surveys, focus groups, and other methods of gathering information about potential customers. 2. Once a market need has been identified, the next step is to develop a concept for the new product. This involves creating a detailed description of the product, including its features, benefits, and target market. 3. The third step is to conduct a feasibility study. This is a thorough analysis of the product concept, taking into account factors such as production costs, distribution channels, and potential competition. 4. If the feasibility study is positive, the next step is to develop a business plan. This document outlines the company's strategy for developing and marketing the new product, as well as its financial projections. 5. The final step in the process is to launch the new product. This involves manufacturing the product, distributing it to retailers, and promoting it to the target market.	6.
