Physics for Animators Michele Bousquet, 2015-12-07 Achieving believable motion in animation requires an understanding of physics that most of us missed out on in art school Although animators often break the laws of physics for comedic or dramatic effect you need to know which laws you're breaking in order to make it work And while large studios might be able to spend a lot of time and money testing different approaches or hiring a physics consultant smaller studios and independent animators have no such luxury This book takes the mystery out of physics tasks like character motion light and shadow placement explosions ocean movement and outer space scenes making it easy to apply realistic physics to your work Physics concepts are explained in animator s terms relating concepts specifically to animation movement and appearance Complex mathematical concepts are broken down into clear steps you can follow to solve animation problems quickly and effectively Bonus companion website at www.physicsforanimators.com offers additional resources including examples in movies and games links to resources and tips on using physics in your work Uniting theory and practice author Michele Bousquet teaches animators how to swiftly and efficiently create scientifically accurate scenes and fix problem spots and how and when to break the laws of physics Ideal for everything from classical 2D animation to advanced CG special effects this book provides animators with solutions that are simple quick and powerful

The Segmentation and Representation of Translocative Motion Events in English and Chinese Discourse Guofeng Zheng,2020-12-01 This book provides a systematic contrastive analysis of the segmentation and representation of English and Chinese Translocative Motion Events TMEs which possess Macro Event Property MEP It addresses all the issues critical to understanding TMEs in English and Chinese from event segmentation MEP principles and the conceptual structure of TMEs and their constituents to the representation of Actant Motion Path and Ground The book argues that the corpus based alignment for the TME segmentation in both languages the parameters of Actant Motion Path and Ground and their relevant statistical description are particularly important for understanding English and Chinese TMEs The linguistic materialization of Actant Ground Path and Motion together with a wealth of tables and figures offers convincing evidence to support the typological classification of English and Chinese The book s suggestions regarding the Talmyan bipartite typology and Bohnermeyer s MEP contribute to the advancement of TME studies and language typology and help learners to understand motion events and English Chinese typological similarities and differences

Processing of Visible Language Paul A. Kolars,2013-11-21 The second symposium on processing visible language constituted a different mix of participants from the first Greater emphasis was given to the design of language both in its historical development and in its current display and to practical questions associated with machine implementation of language in the interactions of person and computer and in the characteristics of the physical and environmental objects that affect the interaction Another change was that a special session on theory capped the proceedings Psychologists remained heavily involved however both as contributors to and as discussants of the work presented. The motivation of the conferences remains one of bringing together graphic designers, engineers, and psychologists concerned with the display and acquisition of visible language. The papers separately tended to emphasize the one of the three disciplines that mark their authors' field of endeavor but are constructed to be general rather than parochial. Moreover, within the three disciplines, papers emphasized either the textual or the more pictorial aspects. For example, a session on writing systems ranged from principles that seem to characterize all such systems to specific papers on ancient Egyptian writing, modern Korean, and English shorthand. The complementary session on the nontextual media opened with a discussion of general principles of pictorial communication and included papers on communicating instructions, general information, or religious belief through designs and other pictorial forms, as well as a discussion of misrepresentation.
