Curriculum-Based Assessment for Instructional Design Matthew K. Burns, David C. Parker, 2014-04-02 In Curriculum based Assessment for Instructional Design Burns and Parker described a number of authentic research based strategies and tools for assessing the student s prior knowledge existing skill level and preferred mode of learning in order to maximize the instructional process Indeed in this book Burns and Parker have developed a natural and practical extension of a conceptual format that was originally called simply curriculum based assessment The book provides much needed clarification of the several terms that have been used over the past three decades and it provides hands on application of the instructional principles involved Government-wide Index to Federal Research & Development Reports ,1966-06

Sonde Experiments for Comparative Measurements of Optical Turbulence J. H. Brown, 1982 Five different instruments were used in multiple experiments to measure atmospheric turbulence in the form of the refractive structure constant C_n^2 These included UHF radar optical scintillometer modified radiosondes AFGL thermosondes and aircraft micro thermal measurements Described here are the radiosonde and thermosonde electronics and their calibrations The data reduction scheme is described and a brief program description is given Although the different instruments gave measurements somewhat separated in space and time first results show good agreement between the radar scintillometer and thermosonde measurements PA-322 (Section B01) Transportation Corridor, Improvements from PA-655 to Mt.
