Critical Theory Today is the essential introduction to contemporary critical theory. It provides clear, simple explanations and concrete examples of complex concepts, making a wide variety of commonly used critical theories accessible to novices without sacrificing any theoretical rigor or thoroughness. This new edition provides in-depth coverage of the most common approaches to literary analysis today: feminism, psychoanalysis, Marxism, reader response theory, new criticism, structuralism, and semiotics; deconstruction; new historicism; cultural criticism; lesbian, gay, queer theory; African American criticism; and postcolonial criticism. The chapters provide an extended explanation of each theory using examples from everyday life, popular culture, and literary texts; a list of specific questions critics who use that theory ask about literary texts; an interpretation of F. Scott Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby through the lens of each theory; a list of questions for further practice to guide readers in applying each theory to different literary works; and a bibliography of primary and secondary works for further reading.

Mellard, 2006-10-05 In Beyond Lacan

James M Mellard traces psychoanalytic literary theory and practice from Freud to Lacan to Žižek While Freud effectively presupposes an unconscious that is textual it is Lacan whose theory all but articulates a textual unconscious as he offers the epoch a cutting edge psychoanalytic ideology Mellard considers this and then asks Which Lacan Is there one or many Early or late As Žižek counters the notion of a single unitary Lacan Lacanians are asked to choose Through Lacanian readings of various texts from novels like Ellison's Invisible Man and O'Connor's Wise Blood to short stories by Glaspell and Fitzgerald Mellard shows that in critical practice Lacanians produce a middle Lacan between early and late Mellard concludes by examining why Žižek has perhaps transcended Lacan More than any other it is Žižek who has constructed early and late Lacan making possible that middle Lacan of praxis but in the process he has also claimed an independent authority Ultimately Mellard explains how Žižek offers a post Lacanian critique one built on a pervasive philosophy of paradox that opens new avenues of analysis of contested cultural and literary issues such as subjectivity political economy multiculturalism and religious belief      The Pedagogy of Adaptation Dennis Cutchins, Laurence Raw, James M.

Millionaire many of the most memorable films have been adapted from other sources And while courses on film studies are taught throughout the world The Pedagogy of Adaptation makes a strong case for treating adaptation studies as a separate discipline What makes this book unique is its claim that adaptation is above all a creative process and not simply a slavish imitation or reproduction of an original This collection of essays focuses on numerous contexts to emphasize why adaptations matter to students of literature It is the first such volume devoted exclusively to teaching adaptations from a practical teacher centered angle Many of the essays show how adaptation as a discipline can be used to prompt reflection on cultural historical and political differences Written by specialists in a variety of fields ranging from film radio theater and even language studies the book adopts a pluralistic view of adaptation showing how its processes vary across different contexts and in different disciplines Defining new horizons for the teaching of adaptation studies these essays draw on such disparate sources as Frankenstein Moby Dick and South Park This volume not only provides a resource book of lesson plans but offers valuable pointers as to why teaching literature and film can help develop students skills and improve their literacy
