Laboratories, 1959 Practical Applications of Medical Geology Malcolm Siegel, Olle Selinus, Robert Finkelman, 2021-08-01

This edited volume provides a framework for integrating methods and information drawn from geological and medical sciences and provides case studies in medical geology to illustrate the usefulness of this framework for crafting environmental and public health policies related to natural materials. The relevance of medical geology research to policy decisions is a topic rarely discussed and this volume attempts to be a unique source for researchers and policy makers in the field of medical geology in addressing this gap in practical medical geology applications. The book's four sections establish this framework in detail using risk assessment case studies, data analyses, and specific medical geology techniques. Following an introduction to medical geology in the context of risk assessment and risk management, the second section discusses specific methods used in medical geology in the categories of geoscience, biomedicine, and data sources. The third section discusses the medical geology of natural materials, energy use, and environmental and workplace impacts. This section includes specific case studies in medical geology and describes how the methods and data from the previous section are used in a medical geology analysis. The fourth section includes a guide to the medical geology literature and provides some examples of medical geology programs in Asia and Africa.

Personal Wireless Communications Ignas Niemeegers, Sonia Heemstra de Groot, 2004-09-01. The IFIP TC 6 9th International Conference on Personal Wireless Communications PWC 2004 is the main conference of the IFIP Working Group 6.8 Mobile and Wireless Communications. The field of personal wireless communications is steadily growing in importance from an academic, industrial, and societal point of view. The dropping cost of WLAN and short range technologies such as Bluetooth and Zigbee is causing the proliferation of personal devices and appliances equipped with radio interfaces. Together with the gradual deployment of powerful wireless infrastructure networks such as 3G cellular systems and WLAN hotspots, the conditions are being created for a portable ubiquitous communication involving virtually any artifact. This enables new application areas such as ambient intelligence where a world of devices, sensors, and actuators surrounding us use wireless technology to create systems that assist us in an unobtrusive way. It also allows the development of personal and personalized environments that accompany a person wherever he or she goes. Examples are Personal Area Networks (PAN) physically surrounding a person and personal networks with a potentially global reach PWC 2004 reflects these developments which are happening on a global scale Researchers from all over the world and in particular a large number from Asia made contributions to the conference There were 100 submissions After a thorough reviewing process 25 full papers and 13 short papers were retained for presentation in the technical sessions The papers cover the whole range of wireless and mobile technologies cellular systems WLAN ad hoc and sensor networks host and network mobility transport protocols for wireless systems and the physical layer
