Hollywood or History? Scott L. Roberts, Charles J. Elfer, 2021-01-01 The challenges of teaching history are acute where we consider the world history classroom Generalized world history courses are a part of many if not most K 12 curricular frameworks in the United States While United States history tends to dominate the scholarship and conversation there are an equally wide number of middle level and secondary students and teachers engaged in the study of world history in our public schools And the challenges are real In the first place if we are to mark content coverage as a curricular obstacle in the history classroom generally then we must underscore that concern in the world history classroom and for obvious reasons The curricular terrain to choose from is immense and forever expanding dealing with the development of numerous civilizations over millennia and across a wide geographic expanse In addition to curricular concerns world historical topics are inherently farther away from most students lives not just temporally but often geographically and culturally Thus the rationale for the present text Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Teach World History The reviews of the first volume Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Teach United States History strategy have been overwhelmingly positive especially as it pertains to the application of the strategy for practitioner Classroom utility and teacher practice have remained our primary objectives in developing the Hollywood or History strategy and we are encouraged by the possibilities of Volume II and the capacity of this most recent text to impact teaching and learning in world history We believe that students connection to film along with teachers ability to use film in an effective manner will help alleviate some of the challenges of teaching world history The book provides 30 secondary lesson plans grades 6 12 that address nine eras in world history Social Studies for Secondary Schools Alan J. Singer, 2014-10-08 Now in its 4th edition this popular text for secondary social studies methods courses integrates discussions of educational goals and the nature of history and social studies with ideas for organizing social studies curricula units lessons projects and activities A major theme throughout is that what teachers choose to teach and the way they teach reflect their broader understanding of society history and the purpose of social studies education Advocating an inquiry and activity based view of social studies teaching that respects the points of view of students and teachers and based in practice and experience it offers systematic support and open honest advice for new teachers Each chapter addresses a broad question about social studies education sub chapters begin with narrower questions that direct attention to specific educational issues Lesson ideas and materials in the book and online are especially designed to help new teachers to address common core learning standards to work in inclusive settings and to promote literacy and the use of technology in social studies classrooms Chapters include highlighted Learning Activities Teaching Activities and Classroom Activities designed to provoke discussion and illustrate different approaches to teaching social studies and conclude with recommendations for further reading and links to on line essays about related social studies topics Activities are followed by four categories Think it over Add your voice to the discussion Try it yourself and It s your classroom All of these are supported with online teaching material Designed for undergraduate and graduate pre service social studies methods courses this text is also useful for in service training programs as a reference for new social studies teachers and as a resource for experienced social studies educators who are engaged in rethinking their teaching practice New in the Fourth Edition Provides a number of new lesson ideas paired with online lesson plans and activity sheets in every chapter Takes a new focus on data driven standards based instruction especially in relation to the common core curriculum Addresses the interactive nature of learning in updated technology sections Reflects current trends in history education Includes more of what the author has learned from working teachers Offers a wealth of additional on line material linked to the text
