Learning Disabilities Marta L. Marchisan, 2005 Can an image of an angel in a mirror be a sign that God chose me to have cancer for a reason A Mirrored Image is a courageous story about a thirty nine year old woman who was preparing for her seventeenth year of teaching when suddenly she was facing the biggest challenge of her life From diagnosis to recovery and knowledge of finding myself this book is a look at a candid account of a battle with a devastating illness of rectal cancer and a sense of the person I became It celebrates life and the triumph of a determined courageous and spiritual woman As the mental healing was beginning so did the chemotherapy With faith and positive thinking I tell about my struggle and outline the processes I used to deal with surgery and treatments I used many facets other than medical to survive and begin my celebration of life My hope is for all newly diagnosed cancer patients to find the faith strength courage and hope to fight cancer with a positive attitude and win I also hope that people still battling cancer finds the inspiration and guidance to enrich their outlook of this disease and their life

Learning and the Transformation of Development Amy Skinner, Matt Baillie Smith, Eleanor Brown, Tobias Troll, 2016-07-15
 Whilst education has been widely recognised as a key tool for development this has tended to be limited to the incremental changes that education can bring about within a given development paradigm as opposed to its role in challenging dominant conceptions and practices of development and creating alternatives Through a collection of insightful and provocative chapters this book will examine the role of learning in shaping new discourses and practices of development By drawing on contributions from activists researchers education and development practitioners from around the world this book situates learning within the wider political and cultural economies of development It critically explores if and how learning can shape processes of societal transformation and consequently a new language and practice of development This includes offering critical accounts of popular informal and non formal learning processes as well as the contribution of indigenous knowledges in providing spaces for the co production of knowledge thinking and action on development and in terms of shaping the ways in which citizens engage with and create new understandings of development itself This book makes an important and original contribution by reframing educational practices and processes in relation to broader global struggles for justice voice and development in a rapidly changing development landscape
