Hollywood or History? Scott L. Roberts, Charles J. Elfer, 2021-01-01 The challenges of teaching history are acute where we consider the world history classroom Generalized world history courses are a part of many if not most K 12 curricular frameworks in the United States While United States history tends to dominate the scholarship and conversation there are an equally wide number of middle level and secondary students and teachers engaged in the study of world history in our public schools And the challenges are real In the first place if we are to mark content coverage as a curricular obstacle in the history classroom generally then we must underscore that concern in the world history classroom and for obvious reasons The curricular terrain to choose from is immense and forever expanding dealing with the development of numerous civilizations over millennia and across a wide geographic expanse In addition to curricular concerns world historical topics are inherently farther away from most students lives not just temporally but often geographically and culturally Thus the rationale for the present text Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Teach World History The reviews of the first volume Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Teach United States History strategy have been overwhelmingly positive especially as it pertains to the application of the strategy for practitioner Classroom utility and teacher practice have remained our primary objectives in developing the Hollywood or History strategy and we are encouraged by the possibilities of Volume II and the capacity of this most recent text to impact teaching and learning in world history We believe that students connection to film along with teachers ability to use film in an effective manner will help alleviate some of the challenges of teaching world history The book provides 30 secondary lesson plans grades 6 12 that address nine eras in world history

Cinematic Social Studies William B. can should look like while providing research and rationales for why teaching social studies with film is valuable and important This volume includes twenty four scholarly chapters discussing relevant topics of importance to cinematic social studies The twenty four chapters are divided into three sections This stellar collection of writings includes contributions from noteworthy scholars like Keith Barton Wayne Journell James Damico Cynthia Tyson and many more

Teaching for Historical Literacy Matthew T. Downey, Kelly A. Long, 2015-07-30 Teaching for Historical Literacy combines the elements of historical literacy into a coherent instructional framework for teachers It identifies the role of historical literacy analyzes its importance in the evolving educational landscape and details the action steps necessary for teachers to implement its principles throughout a unit These steps are drawn from the reflections of real teachers grounded in educational research and consistent with the Common Core State Standards The instructional arc formed by authors Matthew T Downey and Kelly A Long takes teachers from start to finish from managing the prior learning of students to developing their metacognition and creating synthesis at the end of a unit of study It includes introducing topics by creating a conceptual overview helping students collect and analyze evidence and engaging students in multiple kinds of learning including factual procedural conceptual and metacognitive This book is a must have resource for teachers and students of teaching interested in improving their instructional skills building historical literacy and being at the forefront of the evolving field of history education

Social Studies for Secondary Schools Alan J. Singer, 2008-10-26 This popular text advocates an inquiry and activity based view of social studies teaching that respects the points of view of students and teachers Based in practice and experience it offers systematic support and open honest advice for new teachers is conversational not pedantic and provides lots of examples While the structure and most of the topics remain largely the same as before this Third Edition presents new lesson ideas in every chapter especially designed to help new teachers to address learning standards to work in inclusive settings and to promote literacy and the use of technology in social studies classrooms puts a heavier focus on what is important to know and why includes new essays on the politics of social studies education responds to opponents of project or activity based social studies instruction and multicultural education with a sharpened defense of both of these approaches throughout the book Intended as a text for undergraduate and graduate pre service social studies methods courses this text is also useful for in service training programs as a reference for new social studies teachers and as a resource for experienced social studies educators who are engaged in rethinking their teaching practice

Reassessing the Social Studies Curriculum Wayne Journell, 2016-05-03 The terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 dramatically changed many aspects of American society and the ramifications of that horrific event are still impacting the domestic and foreign policies of the United States Yet fifteen years after 9 11 an event that was predicted to change the scope of public education in the United States we find that the social studies curriculum remains virtually the same as before the attacks For a discipline charged with developing informed citizens prepared to enter a global economy such curricular stagnation makes little sense

This book which contains chapters from many leading scholars within the field of social studies education both assesses the ways in which the social studies curriculum has failed to live up to the promises of progressive citizenship education made in the wake of the attacks and offers practical advice for teachers who wish to encourage a critical understanding of the post 9 11 global society in which their students live History Lessons S.G. Grant,2014-04-04 Uses extended case studies of two New York teachers and their students combined with discussion of the existing research literature to explore issues central to understanding teaching learning and testing in secondary school history classrooms Hollywood or History? Tim Monreal,Jesús A. Tirado,2025-06-20 Hollywood or History helps classroom teachers include more accurate Latinx stories in their classroom We believe that when used intentionally and critically media representations of Latinx communities and histories are powerful tools for high quality curriculum and instruction Equipping Educators to Teach Religious Literacy Emile Lester,W. Y. Alice Chan,2022-03-17 This volume provides a detailed evaluation of a unique education program implemented in secondary schools in Georgia to enhance teachers religious literacy and their ability to promote this in schools and classrooms The text demonstrates that religious literacy can be proactively taught to students whilst also highlighting key considerations and tensions around religious liberty in the American South Spanning rural urban and suburban Georgia the text presents an original approach to the growing field of religious literacy by foregrounding community voices and perspectives Using rich empirical data and qualitative interviews with religious and political leaders scholars teachers parents and students the book evaluates the challenges efficacy and benefits of the program in view of rising political polarization In doing so the text tackles historical and contemporary issues around race and religion and considers tensions between religious and nonreligious groups in the US Ultimately the book presents a significant contribution to the dialogue around fostering religious literacy in schools This text will benefit researchers academics and educators with an interest in religious education teacher education and religious literacy more broadly Those interested in the sociology of education as well as diversity and religion in America will also benefit from this volume Doing History Linda S. Levstik,Keith C. Barton,2015-01-30 Now in its fifth edition Doing History offers a unique perspective on teaching and learning history in the elementary and middle grades Through case studies of teachers and students in diverse classrooms and from diverse backgrounds it shows children engaging in authentic historical investigations often in the context of an integrated social studies curriculum The premise is that children can engage in valid forms of historical inquiry collecting and analyzing data examining the perspectives of people in the past considering multiple interpretations and creating evidence based historical accounts Grounded in contemporary sociocultural theory and research the text features vignettes in each chapter showing communities of teachers and students doing history in environments rich in literature art writing discussion and debate The authors explain how the teaching demonstrated in the vignettes reflects basic principles of contemporary learning theory Doing History emphasizes diversity of perspectives in two ways readers encounter students from a variety of backgrounds and students themselves look at history from multiple perspectives It provides clear guidance in using multiple forms of assessment to evaluate the specifically historical aspects of children s learning Curriculum and Teaching Dialogue Chara Haeussler Bohan,2023-08-01 Curriculum and Teaching Dialogue is a peer reviewed journal sponsored by the American Association for Teaching and Curriculum AATC The purpose of the journal is to promote the scholarly study of teaching and curriculum The aim is to provide readers with knowledge and strategies of teaching and curriculum that can be used in educational settings The journal is published annually in two volumes and includes traditional research papers conceptual essays as well as research outtakes and book reviews Publication in CTD is always free to authors Information about the journal is located on the AATC website <http://aatchome.org> and can be found on the Journal tab at <http://aatchome.org/about/ctd-journal>
