Reardon, 2021-01-14 Timothy W Reardon uncovers the salvation narrative developed within Luke Acts and its key themes as they develop within the Lukan presentation of time and space while being attentive to overcoming a facile compartmentalization of religion and politics Reardon argues that Luke Acts offers a complete holistic embodied and theopolitical soteriology cosmic in scope that includes both the what and how of salvation In contrast to recent arguments for some form of vicarious expiation in Luke Acts Reardon instead suggests that Luke Acts presentation of salvation though exhibiting elements of multiple atonement models noticeably takes a Christus Victor form using Irenaeus's Christus Victor paradigm in particular as a point of comparison Throughout this book Reardon repeatedly demonstrates that Lukan soteriology is political examining Jesus role as herald of God's kingdom the salvific space of heaven and the Church and the mission of salvation Reardon concludes that Luke Acts is a theopolitical salvation unfolding in space aiming toward the reconciliation of all things

Contemporary Materialism: Its Ontology and Epistemology Gustavo E. Romero, Javier Pérez-Jara, Lino Camprubí, 2022-06-01 This book provides an up to date revision of materialism's central tenets its main varieties and the place of materialistic philosophy vis a vis scientific knowledge Materialism has been the subject of extensive and rich controversies since Robert Boyle introduced the term for the first time in the 17th century But what is materialism and what can it offer today The term is usually defined as the worldview according to which everything real is material Nevertheless there is no philosophical consensus about whether the meaning of matter can be enlarged beyond the physical As a consequence materialism is often defined in stark exclusive and reductionist terms whatever exists is either physical or ontologically reducible to it This conception if consistent mutilates reality excluding the ontological significance of political economic sociocultural anthropological and psychological realities Starting from a new history of materialism the present book focuses on the central ontological and epistemological debates aroused by today's leading materialist approaches including some little known to an anglophone readership The key concepts of matter system emergence space and time life mind and software are checked over and updated Controversial issues such as the nature of mathematics and the place of reductionism are also discussed from different materialist approaches As a result materialism emerges as a powerful indispensable scientifically supported worldview with a surprising wealth of nuances and possibilities
