Principles of International Economic Law, 3e Matthias Herdegen, 2024-03-20 Principles of International Economic Law provides a comprehensive overview of the central topics in international economic law with an emphasis on the interplay between the different economic and political interests on both the international and domestic levels Following recent tendencies the book examines classical topics of international economic law such as WTO law investment protection commercial law and monetary law in context with emerging aspects of human rights environmental protection and the legitimate claims of developing countries A perfect introductory text to the field of international economic law the book thoroughly analyses legal developments within their wider political economic or social context Topics covered range from codes of conduct for multinational enterprises to human rights implications of the exploiting natural resources and the legal impact of climate protection The book demonstrates the economic foundations and economic implications of legal frameworks It puts into profile the often complex relationship between on the one hand international standards on liberalization and economic rationality and on the other state sovereignty and national preferences It describes the newly developed forms of economic cooperation between states such as the G7 the G20 or the

BRICS Herdegen's Principles of International Economic Law has established itself as a leading textbook in the field. This fully updated third edition covers new aspects and developments with a particular focus on corporate social responsibility challenges for WTO law, mega regional agreements such as CPTPP, the impact of human rights law and environmental standards and cryptocurrencies. Roman Law in the Modern World: History of Roman law and its descent into English, French, German, Italian, Spanish, and other modern law Charles Phineas Sherman, 1917. The History of Global Climate Governance Joyeeta Gupta, 2014-02-06. What has happened globally on the climate change issue? How have countries' positions differed over time and why? How are problems and politics developing on an increasingly globalised planet and can we find a solution? This book explores these questions and more, explaining the key underlying issues of the conflicts between international blocs. The negotiation history is systematically presented in five phases, demonstrating the evolution of decision making. The book discusses the coalitions, actors and potential role of the judiciary as well as human rights issues in addressing the climate change problem. It argues for a methodical solution through global law and constitutionalism which could provide the quantum jump needed in addressing the problem of climate governance. This fascinating and accessible account will be a key resource for policymakers and NGOs and also for researchers and graduate students in climate policy, geopolitics, climate change, environmental policy and law and international relations. The Cambridge World History: Volume 5, Expanding Webs of Exchange and Conflict, 500CE-1500CE Benjamin Z. Kedar, Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks, 2015-04-09. Volume 5 of the Cambridge World History series uncovers the cross cultural exchange and conquest and the accompanying growth of regional and trans regional states, religions and economic systems during the period 500 to 1500 CE. The volume begins by outlining a series of core issues and processes across the world including human relations with nature, gender and family, social hierarchies, education and warfare. Further essays examine maritime and land based networks of long distance trade and migration in agricultural and nomadic societies and the transmission and exchange of cultural forms, scientific knowledge, technologies and text based religious systems that accompanied these. The final section surveys the development of centralized regional states and empires in both the eastern and western hemispheres. Together these essays by an international team of leading authors show how processes furthering cultural, commercial and political integration within and between various regions of the world made this millennium a proto global era.

Economics, 1999. Unmaking the West Philip Eyrikson Tetlock, Richard Ned Lebow, Geoffrey Parker, 2006. Provocative explorations that demonstrate how a counterfactual perspective can help us think about history. Logic, Science, God, and Human Intelligence Ronald J. Plachno, 2016-05-15. What is the fastest that humans have ever travelled? Do all Scientists agree that they understand gravity? Is the argument of Darwin versus Creationism a good argument on either side? Could some reality be in fact be an illusion as Einstein implied? This book tries to answer some of those questions and how all truth we perhaps might believe might actually exist together at the same time. The first two sections of this book speak to Science and Human Knowledge and how much do we humans really know I have a science degree but even I learned much in research while writing this book I tried to begin this book with a completely open mind since I believe that is how to seek truth In some cases I found new things surprising at least to me In other cases I just learned what some bright people in the past and current also think which just made me smile And I tried to write the book in such a simple manner that even I can understand it After the first two sections I do get into some theories of mine based on human knowledge and science in the beginning of the book You are more than welcome to form other theories Those ensuing discussions might even make life more interesting Is the purpose of this book to convince you of something No It s goal is to make us all think including me and also to get our discussions into the 21st century For some odd reason some humans believe that other humans should never think about things that are important Science has moved on We no longer believe that the world has only four elements Earth Wind and Fire and Water It is time to get up to speed with what humans have learned And then comes the fun of deciding what theories based on that each of us wish to believe Ethic of Christian Freedom and Discipleship Ronald R. Ray,2023-03-27 Ethics of Christian Freedom and Discipleship is written for teachers and students of Christian ethics within the English speaking world It demonstrates the basis of Christian ethics in Christian theology Twenty nine years ago before leaving the Nigerian theological college where the author had been teaching Between Two Worlds An Ethic of Christian Freedom was privately printed In Kenya at what became St Paul s University the author primarily used copies of this book for eleven years of teaching Christian ethics Ethics of Christian Freedom and Discipleship manifests continuity with the author s earlier book but is a distinctly different work Experimental Americans George L. Hicks,2001 Founded in 1937 by Arthur Morgan first chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority Celo pronounced see lo established its own rules of land tenure and taxation conducted its internal business by consensus and did not require its members to accept any particular ideology or religious creed Drawing on extensive fieldwork in Celo and among its local neighbors consultation of Celo s documentary records and interviews with ex members Hicks traces the Community s ups and downs Attacked for its opposition to World War II Celo was revived by pacifists released from prisons and Civilian Public Service camps after the war debilitated in the 1950s by bitter feuds with ex members it was buoyed up in the 1960s by the radical enthusiasm of new currents in the nation BOOK JACKET Understanding Bioinformatics Marketa J. Zvelebil,Jeremy O. Baum,2008 Suitable for advanced undergraduates postgraduates this book provides a definitive guide to bioinformatics It takes a conceptual approach guides the reader from first principles through to an understanding of the computational techniques the key algorithms Analysing Historical Narratives Stefan Berger,Nicola Brauch,Chris Lorenz,2021-05-14 For all of the recent debates over the methods and theoretical underpinnings of the historical profession scholars and laypeople alike still frequently think of history in terms of storytelling Accordingly historians and theorists have devoted much attention to how historical narratives work illuminating the ways they can bind together events shape an argument and lend support to ideology From ancient Greece to modern day bestsellers the studies gathered here offer a wide ranging analysis of the textual strategies used by historians They show how in spite of the pursuit of truth and objectivity the ways in which historians tell their stories are inevitably conditioned by their discursive contexts
