The Christian Table Of Duties:

The Christian Table of Duties Aegidius Hunnius, 2014-10-25 Aegidius Hunnius 1550 1603 was among the most significant of the Lutheran theologians of the early years of the Age of Lutheran Orthodoxy 1580 1713 From 1576 to 1592 Hunnius served on the theological faculty of the University of Marburg and then joined the faculty of the University of Wittenberg in 1592 helping to restore Lutheran teaching and practice in Saxony during the reign of Duke Friedrich Wilhelm I It was during his years in Marburg that Hunnius completed his sermons on the Small Catechism to which his twelve sermons on The Christian Table of Duties were appended Rydecki s translation is based on the revised edition of Hunnius sermons Hunnius sermons on the Table of Duties fill a significant gap in much of the confirmation instruction which takes place today Hunnius sermons are a valuable corrective to this common shortcoming and will be of enduring aid to Lutheran pastors and laity

Schooling and the Making of Citizens in the Long Nineteenth Century Daniel Tröhler, Thomas S. Popkewitz, David F. Labaree, 2011-05-09 This book is a comparative history that explores the social cultural and political formation of the modern nation through the construction of public schooling It asks how modern school systems arose in a variety of different republics and non republics across four continents during the period from the late eighteenth century to the early twentieth century The authors begin with the republican preoccupation with civic virtue the need to overcome self interest in order to take up the common interest which requires a form of education that can produce individuals who are capable of self guided rational action for the public good They then ask how these educational preoccupations led to the emergence of modern school systems in a disparate array of national contexts even those that were not republican By examining historical changes in republicanism across time and space the authors explore central epistemologies that connect the modern individual to community and citizenship through the medium of schooling Ideas of the individual were reformulated in the nineteenth century in reaction to new ideas about justice social order and progress and the organization and pedagogy of the school turned these changes into a way to transform the self into the citizen The Cambridge Companion to John Calvin Donald K. McKim, 2004-06-17 Dr Donald K McKim gathers together an international array of major Calvin scholars to consider phases of Calvin s theological thought and influence Here historians and theologians meet to present a full picture of Calvin s contexts the major themes in Calvin s writings and the ways in which his thought spread and has increasing importance today The chapters serve as guides to their topics and provide further readings for additional study This is an accessible introduction to the significant Protestant reformer and will appeal to the specialist and non specialist alike The Christian Spectator, 1819 Setting in Order T. Patrick Jensen, 2025-08-07 Setting a church in order is a primary task for the pastor Jensen weaves a tapestry of dialogue with Titus and other ancient and contemporary thinkers to underscore this important but sometimes forgotten role The reader will find in Jensen s work part exegesis part theological history part psychosocial integration part contemporary anecdotes all with the appeal for the church to immerse itself in relationship with

God and with others that illustrates the heavenly family God is orchestrating and preparing for the coming of Christ Jensen's vision is a renewal of what life together can look like when we gather in our homes and when we gather in our churches
