|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. Would it make any sense to build space programs and rockets?           | That U.S. support them economically (training, fuel, etc.)                                    | Not really.                                                                                                                                                         |
| 2. Would anyone benefit from the rockets and satellites they could build? | They would certainly produce satellites that were better. They could improve delivery of aid. | They were worried about the loss of U.S. technology when John F. Kennedy became president. They thought the Soviet Union would use it to develop a nuclear missile. |
| 3. Would anyone challenge U.S. power?                                     | Not really.                                                                                   | They didn't want to compete with the Americans and the Russians.                                                                                                    |
| 4. Would the U.S. achieve other goals besides economic security?          | Yes. The governments could be stronger. There would be increased stability.                   | Yes. American jobs that were important and would not lose to competition like Russia.                                                                               |

2. What do you think is going on in the following sentences?

They (the U.S.) have decided to do this.

It may be that the Russians are really serious.

It seems obvious. The government has decided to go ahead.

It is possible that the U.S. will not get much out of this.
