Tourism Development, Governance and Sustainability in The Bahamas Sophia Rolle,Jessica Minnis,Ian Bethell-Bennett,2020-07-12 This book focuses on the complex issues of tourism development governance and sustainability in the long standing popular island destination The Bahamas where tourism remains one of the primary fiscal industries The book achieves this by looking at the impacts of mass tourism development from social economic and environmental perspectives panarchy and resilience assessing sustainability moving towards a blue economy impacts of climate change and innovative alternative tourism offerings to ensure sustainable tourism a welcomed but challenging essential contemporary focus of the tourism industry It further looks at how development governance and sustainability come together in the aftermath of a recent natural disaster hurricane Dorian which proved to be a strong catalyst for action innovation and change in The Bahamas Given the complexity of these key concepts and The Bahamas as an established popular tourism destination archipelago which relies so heavily on the industry this book offers significant insight for other tourism regions and will therefore be essential reading for upper level students and academics in the field of Tourism research China's Evolving Nuclear Deterrent Eric Heginbotham,Michael S. Chase,Jacob L. Heim,Bonny Lin,Mark R. Cozad,Lyle J. Morris,Christopher P. Twomey,Forrest E. Morgan,Michael Nixon,Cristina L. Garafola,Samuel K. Berkowitz,2017-03-06 China s approach to nuclear deterrence has been broadly consistent since its first test in 1964 but it has recently accelerated nuclear force modernization China's strategic environment is likely to grow more complex and nuclear constituencies are gaining a larger bureaucratic voice Beijing is unlikely to change official nuclear policies but will probably increase emphasis on nuclear deterrence and may adjust the definition of key concepts organizations and UN agencies This comprehensive update will include coverage of current events issues crises and controversies from the course of the last two years including Elections across Europe Referendum in Ireland Rohingya genocide in Myanmar The Venezuelan dictatorship The renaming of Swaziland to eSwatini Qatar diplomacy changes Historic meeting between the United States and North Korea Establishment of a new governing coalition in Liberia Political Handbook of the World 2020-2021 Tom Lansford,2021-03-23 The Political Handbook of the World by Tom Lansford provides timely thorough and accurate political information with more in depth coverage of current political controversies than any other reference guide The updated 2020 2021 edition will continue to be the most authoritative source for finding complete facts and analysis on each country s governmental and political makeup Compiling in one place more than 200 entries on countries and territories throughout the world this volume is renowned for its extensive coverage of all major and minor political parties and groups in each political system The Political Handbook of the World 2020 2021 also provides names of key ambassadors and international memberships of each country plus detailed profiles of more than 30 intergovernmental organizations and UN agencies And this update will aim to include coverage of current events issues crises and controversies from the course of the last two years The End of the Innocence Lawrence R. Samuel,2007-10-01 From April 1964 to October 1965 some 52 million people from around the world flocked to the New York World s Fair an experience that lives on in the memory of many individuals and in America s collective consciousness Taking a perceptive look back at the last of the great world s fairs Samuel offers a vivid portrait of this seminal event and of the cultural climate that surrounded it He also counters critics assessments of the fair as the ugly duckling of global expositions Opening five months after President Kennedy s assassination the fair allowed millions to celebrate international fellowship while the conflict in Vietnam came to a boil This event was perhaps the last time so many from so far could gather to praise harmony while ignoring cruel realities on such a gargantuan scale This world s fair glorified the postwar American dream of limitless optimism even as a counterculture of sex drugs and rock n roll came into being It could rightly be called the last gasp of that dream The End of the Innocence Samuel s work charts the fair from inception in 1959 to demolition in 1966 and provides a broad overview of the social and cultural dynamics that led to the birth of the event It also traces thematic aspects of the fair with its focus on science technology and the world of the future Accessible entertaining and informative the book is richly illustrated with contemporary photographs Don't Send Him in Tomorrow Jarlath O'Brien,2016-08-04 In Don t Send Him in Tomorrow Jarlath O'Brien shines a light on the marginalised disenfranchised and forgotten children of today s schools The percentage of children achieving the government s expected standard in benchmark tests is national news every year The progress that children with learning difficulties and SEN make is never discussed because it is not understood That is a problem The bone crushing infrastructure which professionals have to negotiate is a problem The fact that so many parents have to fight tooth and nail so that the needs of their children are met something the rest of us would consider a basic entitlement is a problem

This book describes how the system can be improved if and when these marginalised children are given higher priority by the powers that be. There is a widespread lack of understanding about special schools, the work they do and the children they educate; the sector is largely invisible. Jarlath O'Brien has become increasingly frustrated by this and the varying quality of provision for children with learning difficulties and SEN in mainstream schools. The successes of special schools and pupil referral units in Ofsted inspections are just not celebrated or analysed in the same way that mainstream schools are. While mainstream schools have their hands tied by fears over progress measures, there is a human cost to the accountability culture that reduces schooling to data and judgements; this is felt most profoundly by children with SEN and their families. Jarlath shares some of the problems he's witnessed with inclusion and exclusion, mainstream schools actively encouraging children with SEN to look elsewhere, parents reporting their children have been formally or informally excluded from school and socially excluded by the parents of other children, children asked to leave their mainstream schools because of their behaviour, usually behaviour that is caused by their needs not being adequately addressed, children who are in school but isolated from their peers. If a child can't participate in activities or trips with the rest of the class or spends much of the day working one-to-one with a teaching assistant, is this really inclusion? The Pupil Premium has been established to ensure that children in receipt of free school meals are not disadvantaged; why does something similar not exist for children with SEN? Every health and wealth indicator that you could use to measure people with learning difficulties and special educational needs, SEN reveals something alarming. They die younger. They work less. They are more likely to live in poverty or end up in prison or face mental health difficulties. They are much more likely to be excluded from school. They are more likely to be bullied at school. This has to end. We all have to choose to commit to recognising that society as it is today is a difficult place for young people to thrive. When you have autism or Down syndrome or any physical or learning difference, it's even harder and the system as it stands isn't helping. We need to acknowledge that this is not right; that such a state of affairs must change and that we all have a part to play in making that change happen. Jarlath offers suggestions for politicians, Ofsted, local authorities, head teachers, SENCOs, teachers and teaching assistants about what they can do to make a difference. For all politicians, head teachers, SENCOs, teachers and parents.
