the UAE from frontier to emerging market status in 2014 while the emirate's successful Expo 2020 bid is expected to generate myriad opportunities for private investors across a range of sectors. Construction is thriving once again driven in large part by strong retail sector growth with various projects including plans for the world's largest mall indicating that the sector will maintain its position as the emirate's biggest GDP contributor moving forward. The transport and logistics framework is set for major expansion in the coming years as well, further cementing the emirate's status as a leading transport and logistics hub not just regionally but globally too. The continued development of Dubai's retail and hospitality offerings alongside the upgrades to its airports should help to ensure robust growth in visitor numbers from both the region and further afield.

The World Factbook, 2016 Nations in Transit 2014 Freedom House, 2014-09-24

Since 1995 Freedom House's Nations in Transit series has monitored the status of democratic change from Central Europe to Eurasia, pinpointing the region's greatest reform opportunities and challenges for the benefit of policymakers, researchers, journalists, and democracy advocates alike. Covering twenty-nine countries, Nations in Transit provides comparative ratings and in-depth analysis of electoral process, civil society, independent media, national and local democratic governance, judicial framework, and corruption. Nations in Transit 2014 evaluates developments in these areas from January 1 to December 31, 2013.

Tourism and Degrowth Robert Fletcher, Ivan Murray Mas, Asunción Blanco Romero, Macià Blázquez-Salom, 2020-06-29 Tourism and Degrowth develops a conceptual framework and research agenda for exploring the relationship between tourism and degrowth. Rapid and uneven expansion of tourism as a response to the 2008 economic crisis has proceeded in parallel with the rise of social discontent concerning so-called overtourism. Meanwhile, despite decades of concerted global effort to achieve sustainable development, socioecological conflicts and inequality have rarely reversed but in fact increased in many places. Degrowth, understood as both social theory and social movement, has emerged within the context of this global crisis. However, thus far, the vibrant degrowth discussion has yet to engage systematically with the tourism industry in particular, while by the same token, tourism research has largely neglected explicit discussion of degrowth. This volume brings the two discussions together to interrogate their complementarity. Identifying a growth imperative in the basic structure of the capitalist economy, the contributors contend that mounting critique of overtourism can be understood as a structural response to the ravages of capitalist development more broadly. Debate concerning overtourism thus offers a valuable opportunity to re-politicise discussion of tourism development generally. Exploring the potential for degrowth to facilitate a truly sustainable tourism, Tourism and Degrowth will be of great interest to scholars of tourism, environmental sustainability, and development. The chapters were originally published as a special issue of the
