Issues in Accents of English Ewa Waniek-Klimczak, 2020-10-27 Adopting a central theme of variability the book explores different aspects of native and non native accents of English The dominating perspective is that of a non native speaker although as argued by some contributors the very distinction between native and non native English may need to be redefined As the debate on the pronunciation of English as a lingua franca continues this volume presents well focused studies investigating the acquisition and use of the sound system by native and non native speakers problems with the choice and variability in pronunciation models and pedagogical aspects of pronunciation instruction The issue of accents calls for a comprehensive approach this book aims to provide such a broad perspective based on expertise and experience of the contributors who are specialist in linguistics applied linguistics phonetics phonology and ESL The book is divided into three parts Part one discusses complex conditioning of production and perception of native and non native accents It contains acoustic and auditory studies investigating the effect of such independent variables as identity L1 or contextual factors on the elements of the sound system Part two links the accent variability studies to the pedagogical context by presenting problems with the pronunciation model its choice and variability The main focus of part three is on pronunciation teaching papers presented in this section report on the methods and results of phonetic instruction in different settings

Setting Performance Standards in Europe Spiros Papageorgiou, 2009 This publication was awarded the Jacqueline Ross TOEFL Dissertation Award in 2009 Since its publication in 2001 the Common European Framework of Reference CEFR has been the most frequently cited performance standard in language testing in Europe To help test providers and users with score interpretation in relation to the CEFR levels the Council of Europe published the Manual for relating language examinations to the CEFR Even though the linking process set out in the Manual is primarily based on judgements by trained participants judgement making in this context remains largely unexplored The research presented in this book addresses this issue by employing quantitative and qualitative methods Despite the judges good understanding of how language ability progresses from lower to higher CEFR levels it was found that describing test content and examinee performance was not without problems and decision making was affected by a number of factors that were irrelevant to the judgement task The results provide a better understanding of judgement making during the CEFR linking process which has important implications for examination providers and users of CEFR aligned test scores Aligning Tests with the CEFR

Waldemar Martyniuk,2010-11-11 This volume explores the process of aligning language tests with the Common European Framework of Reference CEFR
