played more than a thousand football games When France withdrew from NATO however American bases were forced to close leaving American football without a natural home on Gallic shores In the 1970s American college and semi pro teams tried once more to generate interest in the game among French nationals through a series of tours but until a French physical education instructor vacationed in Colorado and brought equipment back to France there was little local enthusiasm for the sport On the back of that vacation and from one team in Paris organized American football in France grew to more than 215 teams with more than 22 000 active players today Le Football tackles the struggles and successes of American football in France and discusses how unlike baseball and basketball football has never been an overt instrument of American cultural influence Russ Crawford keeps the chains moving as he shows how the modern homegrown sport developed largely independent of American encouragement into a small but successful culture
