

The background of the book cover is a high-resolution, false-color aerial photograph of a large integrated circuit (IC) die. The die is rectangular and filled with a complex, grid-like pattern of circuitry. Different functional blocks are highlighted in various colors: large green rectangular areas, red rectangular blocks, purple and blue regions, and yellow/orange sections. A network of fine, dark lines represents the interconnects between these blocks. The overall image has a technical, high-tech feel, typical of semiconductor manufacturing documentation.
