Section: Changing Population Trends

Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow.

In many of the poorest countries, wood is the main fuel source. When populations are stable, people use fallen tree limbs for fuel, which does not harm the trees. When populations grow rapidly, deadwood does not accumulate fast enough to provide enough fuel. People begin to cut down living trees, which reduces the amount of wood available in each new year. Parts of Africa, Asia, and India have been cleared of vegetation by people collecting fuel wood.

A supply of fuel ensures that a person can boil water and cook food. In many parts of the world, water taken directly from wells or public supplies is not safe to drink because it may carry water-borne parasites or other diseases. The water can be sterilized by boiling it, but fuel is needed to do so. Also, food is often unsafe or harder to digest unless it is cooked. Without enough fuelwood, many people suffer from disease and malnutrition.

IDENTIFYING MAIN IDEAS

One reading skill is the ability to identify the main ideas of a passage. The main idea is the main focus or key idea. Frequently, a main idea is accompanied by supporting information that offers detailed facts about main ideas.

Read each question and write the answer in the space provided.

1. The main source of fuel for many poorer countries is

2. People use fallen tree limbs for fuel when their population is

3. If a population grows quickly, people begin to cut down for fuel wood. _____

4. Public water supplies are unsafe in some parts of the world because the water may carry _____ and _____

5. Explain how an area of land can become cleared of vegetation because a population grows.

International Handbook of Medical Education Ibrahim Al Alwan, Mohi Eldin Magzoub, Margaret Elzubeir, 2012-03-19

Medical education has grown expeditiously in the last decade triggered by innovations in educational approaches such as problem based learning PBL and community based education CBE This had led to medical schools establishing departments for medical education and developing special introductory courses for undergraduate curricula As a result an enormous amount of literature is now available for teachers and medical educators but only a limited amount of medical education material is aimed directly at students The International Handbook of Medical Education takes the lead by giving students access to basic medical education knowledge and skills presented in a simple and interactive format The Handbook provides students with a tool to guide them on the road to success during their academic lives and beyond by helping to improve study skills such as reading writing searching and research and giving students essential information on assessment skills such as answering multiple choice questions and preparing for objective structured clinical examination With this handbook students will develop the knowledge skills and attitudes that will advance their care
