The Scramble for Art in Central Africa Enid Schildkrout, Curtis A. Keim, 1998-03-28 Western attitudes to Africa have been influenced to an extraordinary degree by the arts and artefacts that were brought back by the early collectors exhibited in museums and celebrated by scholars and artists in the metropolitan centres The contributors to this volume trace the life history of artefacts that were brought to Europe and America from Congo towards the end of the nineteenth century and became the subjects of museum displays They also present fascinating case studies of the pioneering collectors including such major figures as Frobenius and Torday They discuss the complex and sensitive issues involved in the business of collecting and show how the collections and exhibitions influenced academic debates about the categories of art and artefact and the notion of authenticity and challenged conventional aesthetic values as modern Western artists began to draw on African models
