

A landscape gardener decides that he wants to design a lawn split into a series of sectors with circular patios laid into the grass, as shown in the given figure. The circular lawn will be split into six equal sectors, each with a radius of eight meters. The lines OA and OB are both tangents to the circle, and the arc AB touches the circle at a single point.

Work out the area of sector OAB. Give your answer in terms of π .

$$\frac{32\pi}{3} \text{ square meters}$$

The gardener needs to calculate the radius of the circular patio. Using trigonometric ratios, calculate the radius of the patio. Give your answer as a fraction.

$$\frac{8}{3} \text{ meters}$$

Calculate the total area of grass in one sector. Give your answer, in terms of π , in its simplest form.

$$A = \pi r^2$$

$$\text{area covered in grass} = \frac{32\pi}{3} - \frac{4\pi}{9} \Rightarrow \frac{32\pi}{9} \text{ square meters}$$

The study used a qualitative approach which followed a descriptive case study design. Data collection was done using lesson observations, semi-structured interviews, document analysis, and focus group discussions. To capture observations and interviews in totality, video and audio recordings were used respectively. Thematic analysis was used to analyse data. The five performance strategies of solving word problems by Newman, namely reading ability, comprehension ability, transformation ability, process skills, and encoding ability, guided the analysis of data. The study was guided by the following research questions: How do teachers engage learners in reading algebraic word problems? How do teachers probe learners' understanding of algebraic word problems? What do teachers do to enhance learners' process skills and encoding abilities in algebraic word problems? Manpower Problems in the Service Sector: Papers for a Trade Union Seminar; Supplement to the Report Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development. Social Affairs Division, 1966 International Education in the K-12 Sector Merli Tamtik, Connie Lam James, 2025-06-09 This edited volume focuses on K-12 international education in a global context and examines trends, emerging topics, and prevalent tensions. It considers the rapidly growing phenomenon across a variety of country contexts in a way that can convey both empirical evidence and insights into theorization and practical debates. Contributors touch upon a range of emerging trends in K-12 international education globally, including student mobility, curriculum design, language learning, methodological considerations, and policy considerations through a holistic and comprehensive approach. The book also applies a critical decolonial lens in examining K-12 international education by inviting readers to think critically about issues of power, privilege, equity, and social justice in trying to foster a more informed and socially responsible approach to international education Ultimately the book attempts to move beyond a one size fits all approach in order to embrace the complexity of issues that emerge from international education involving vulnerable populations The book is grounded in institutional theory which allows to explore the complex web of institutional norms values and behaviors that are shaping the experiences through international education across the different chapters in this volume As an edited volume authored by academic experts and practitioners from around the world this book provides the most recent and up to date account on documenting developments related to K 12 international education internationally Through contributing significant evidence across international contexts the book raises new questions and offers new perspectives to the field opening conversations both within and across governments and non governmental stakeholders such as educators students and parents
