GUIDED READING & PRACTICE WORKSHEETS

RNA

1

(1) What information level is a unit of nucleic acid that stores a sequence code for protein synthesis. The principle of "mating partners." The genetic information in DNA is transcribed into RNA, which is then translated into proteins in a process called the Central Dogma of Biology. It includes the flow of information from DNA to RNA to proteins and the variety of important functions in the human body.

(2) What DNA, RNA is composed of a long chain of nucleotides. Nucleotides consist of a phosphate group, a sugar, and a nitrogenous base. RNA is composed of nucleotides and contains the sugar ribose instead of deoxyribose. RNA can be a single-stranded chain (mRNA) or a double-stranded chain (tRNA, rRNA). RNA is transcribed from DNA and carries genetic information to the ribosome.

(3) There are three main types of RNA, each with its own unique function.

1. Messenger RNA (mRNA) carries genetic information from DNA in the nucleus for creating a complementary strand of protein from the code on the RNA strand. Once this strand leaves the nucleus, it carries the genetic information to the ribosome and carries the instructions for making proteins in the cytoplasm.

2. Transfer RNA (tRNA) carries genetic information from mRNA into a specific sequence of amino acids, which are the building blocks of proteins. tRNA carries genetic information from DNA to the ribosome and carries amino acids to the growing polypeptide chain.

3. Ribosomal RNA (rRNA) is the site of protein synthesis and is a major component of ribosomes. Ribosomes are composed of rRNA and protein. They are found in the cytoplasm of a cell. Proteins are synthesized by the ribosome and the rRNA is the site of protein synthesis.
