The Story of Drawing Susan Owens, 2024-09-10 Drawing is at the heart of human creativity The most democratic form of art making it requires nothing more than a plain surface and a stub of pencil a piece of chalk or an inky brush Our prehistoric ancestors drew with natural pigments on the walls of caves and every subsequent culture has practised drawing whether on papyrus parchment or paper Artists throughout history have used drawing as part of the creative process While painting and sculpture have been shaped heavily by money and influence drawing has always offered extraordinary creative latitude Here we see the artist at his or her most unguarded Susan Owens offers a glimpse over artists shoulders from Michelangelo Rembrandt and Hokusai to Van Gogh K the Kollwitz and Yayoi Kusama as they work think and innovate as they scrutinise the world around them or escape into their imaginations The Story of Drawing loops around the established history of art sometimes staying close at other times diving into exhilarating and altogether less familiar territory Drawing

The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of the Contemporary World Paul Graves-Brown,Rodney Harrison,Angela Piccini,2013-10-17 It has been clear for many years that the ways in which archaeology is practised have been a direct product of a particular set of social cultural and historical circumstances archaeology is always carried out in the present More recently however many have begun to consider how archaeological techniques might be used to reflect more directly on the contemporary world itself how we might undertake archaeologies of as well as in the present This Handbook is the first comprehensive survey of an exciting and rapidly expanding sub field and provides an authoritative overview of the newly emerging focus on the archaeology of the present and recent past In addition to detailed archaeological case studies it includes essays by scholars working on the relationships of different disciplines to the archaeology of the contemporary world including anthropology psychology philosophy historical geography science and technology studies communications and media ethnoarchaeology forensic archaeology sociology film performance and contemporary art This volume seeks to explore the boundaries of an emerging sub discipline to develop a tool kit of concepts and methods which are applicable to this new field and to suggest important future trajectories for research. It makes a significant intervention by drawing together scholars working on a broad range of themes, approaches, methods, and case studies from diverse contexts in different parts of the world which have not previously been considered collectively.

Drawing Difference Marsha Meskimmon, Phil Sawdon, 2016-03-24. Drawing has been growing in recognition and stature within contemporary fine art since the mid 1970s. Simultaneously, feminist activism has been widespread, leading to the increased prominence of women artists, scholars, critics, and curators, and the wide acknowledgement of the crucial role played by gender and sexual difference in constituting the subject. Drawing Difference argues that these developments did not occur in parallel simply by coincidence. Rather, the intimate interplay between drawing and feminism is best characterised as allotropic, a term originating in chemistry that describes a single pure element which nevertheless assumes varied physical structures denoting the fundamental affinities which underlie apparently differing material forms. The book takes as its starting point three works from the 1970s by Annette Messager, Dorothea Rockburne, and Carolee Schneeman that are used to exemplify critical developments in feminist art history and key moments for drawing as a means of expression. Throughout the chapters, these works are further explored in relation to the contemporary drawing practices of Marco Maggi, Sian Bowen, Susan Hauptmann, Cornelia Parker, Christoph Fink, and Toba Khedouri. Their works are shown to be re-iterative sites where mark-making differs with each appearance yet retains certain essential features. Dividing its analysis into the themes 'Approaching Tropes' and 'Coinciding', the book analyses how both drawing and feminist discourse emphasise dialogue, matter, and openness. It demonstrates how sexual difference, subjectivity, and drawing are connected at an elemental level and thus how drawing has played a vital role in the articulation of the material and conceptual dynamics of feminism.

Creative Practice and Embodied Narratives Barbara Doran, 2025-12-16. This book distils thirty years of creative practice into a rigorous inquiry that bridges artmaking, somatic intelligence, and systems thinking. Rooted in the author's concept of Embodied Matter Exploration (EME), it positions creativity as cultural metabolism where material memory and body co-compose meaning. Each chapter unfolds around an artwork as theory, method, and intervention. Resisting fragmentation, the book integrates autoethnography, semiotics, and living systems thinking. Academic literature is treated as a dialogical companion. By participating in meaning-making and interpretation, readers gain new perceptions of self, nature, and society and develop critical reflections to challenge pressing issues such as social injustice, environmental sustainability, and technology's shaping impacts. A thought-provoking read for those interested in systems theory, anthropology, health psychology, neuroscience, and ecology, this practice-led and autoethnographic work opens new paths to possibility studies and creative research.
