The United Nations Special Procedures System Aoife Nolan, Rosa Freedman, Thérèse Murphy, 2017-01-09 The United Nations Special Procedures system is a key element of the evolving international framework for human rights protection and promotion However despite the system s expansion the range of roles and functions performed by mandate holders and the mounting evidence of its strengths and limitations there has been very little academic interrogation or analysis of Special Procedures This lacuna is ever more problematic given the growing profile and effectiveness of the Special Procedures work as well as the increasing attention and challenges that they face both externally from States and internally from within the UN system Given the current state of play of Special Procedures it is essential that scholarly attention be focussed upon the system How does it contribute to international human rights protection How when and why does it fail to do so What steps can and should be taken to address shortcomings both within the system and in terms of the legal and political context within which it operates Featuring expert contributions from key players within and expert commentators on the Special Procedures system this volume addresses these questions in an in depth and rigorous scholarly manner

Indigenous (In)Justice Ahmad Amara,Ismael Abu-Saad,Oren Yiftachel,2012

Indigenous In Justice explores legal and human rights issues surrounding the Bedouin Arab population in Israel s Naqab Negev desert With contributions from international scholars including United Nations officials the volume examines the economic and social rights of indigenous peoples within the context of the Israeli Palestinian conflict

Moving towards a Right to Land: The Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights' Treatment of Land Rights as Human Rights Lucy Claridge,Jérémie Gilbert,Sally Holt,Rebecca Marlin,Rajiv Jeboadh,2015-10-29 In many countries land rights and security of tenure constitute the basis for access to food livelihoods housing and development for a large percentage of the population Without access to land many people find themselves in a situation of great economic insecurity Access redistribution and guarantee of land rights are also crucial issues in post conflict situations where old grievances need to be addressed and the risk of planting new seeds of conflict avoided However socially just and inclusive land rights can play a catalytic role in economic growth development and poverty alleviation Land is in many cases necessary for the realization of other economic social and cultural rights Throughout the last few years the UN Committee on Economic Social and Cultural Rights CESCR has adopted a number of statements highlighting the need to respect land rights explicitly referencing them in relation to other areas such as housing forced evictions food water health and cultural life Nevertheless despite the focus on land rights from CESCR and other UN human rights institutions there is still no clear and comprehensive statement on the fundamental importance and the content of the right to land At present land rights are still viewed as part of the realization of other fundamental rights such as the right to food or the right to water It is now time for the right to land to be recognized by governments as a stand alone human rights issue To support such an effort this report provides a synthesis of the already substantial guidance on human rights and land issues elaborated by the CESCR and other UN bodies focusing on thematic issues such as water health and housing that have been identified as related to and impacting on land rights as well as those groups requiring special attentions such as minorities indigenous peoples women children IDPs and refugees

Participating in Abundant Life Mark R. Teasdale, 2022-04-12 Though we know that God cares about people's lives both in this world and eternity it can be hard to communicate the full picture of holistic salvation Mark Teasdale invites us to both participate in and share Jesus' promise of abundant life connecting biblical perspectives of salvation and discipleship to contemporary concepts of well-being and the common good

Human Rights and the UN Universal Periodic Review Mechanism Damian Etone, Anna Nazir, Alice Storey, 2024-02-27 The Universal Periodic Review (UPR) is a peer review mechanism reviewing all 193 UN Member States' protection and promotion of human rights After ten years of the existence of the UPR mechanism this collection examines the effectiveness of the UPR theoretical and conceptual debates about its modus operandi and the lessons that can be drawn across different regions/states to identify possible improvements The book argues that despite its limitations the UPR mechanism with its inclusive cooperative and collaborative framework is an important human rights mechanism with the potential to evolve over time into an effective cooperative tool for monitoring human rights implementation Divided into three parts the first part focuses on exploring a variety of theoretical approaches to understanding the UPR mechanism The second part examines specific human rights themes and the relationship between the UPR mechanism and other international mechanisms Finally the third part questions implementation and the ways in which states/regional groupings have engaged with the UPR mechanism and what lessons can be learned for the future The volume will be a valuable resource for researchers academics and policymakers working in the area of international human rights law international organizations and international relations We would like to acknowledge the UPR Academic Network (UPRAN) for bringing together the experts on this project and the University of Stirling for providing funds to facilitate open access dissemination for parts of this output The Introduction and Chapter 6 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution (CC BY) 4.0 license

Capturing Caste in Law Annapurna Waughray, 2022-05-11 This book is about the legal regulation of caste discrimination It highlights the difficulty of capturing caste in international and domestic law and suggests solutions Its aim is to contribute to the task of understanding how to secure effective legal protection from and prevention of discrimination on grounds of caste and why this is important and necessary It does this by examining the legal conceptualization and regulation of caste as a social category and as a ground of discrimination in international law and in two national jurisdictions India and the UK identifying their complexities strengths limitations and potential Adopting a broadly chronological approach the book aims to present an account of the role of law in the construction of caste inequality and discrimination and the subsequent legal efforts to dismantle it The book will be of value to lawyers and non-lawyers academics and students of human rights international law equalities and discrimination descent-based and caste-based discrimination minority rights and South Asia and its diaspora It will be a resource for legal practitioners and those in the public and non-governmental sectors involved in the implementation interpretation and enforcement of equality law in the UK the first European country to introduce the word caste into domestic equality legislation and in countries with South Asian diasporas such as the USA

Concluding Observations of the UN Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination Leif Holmström, 2021-10-25 The International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination was adopted thirty five years ago on 21 December 1965 by the General Assembly of the United Nations and entered into force on 4 January 1969 It was the first of the universal human rights treaties with a treaty monitoring body to be adopted and enter into force At present 156 States have ratified or acceded to this Convention Under article 9 of the Convention each State party has to submit a report within one year after the entry into force of the Convention for that State and thereafter every two years and whenever so requested The Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination has been formed to monitor the implementation of the Convention At its fortieth session in 1991 the Committee initiated the practice of adopting concluding observations by the Committee as a whole on each report it considered and at its forty third session in 1993 the Committee started to use a standard format for the presentation of its concluding observations The Committee makes a general evaluation of the report and of the dialogue with the delegation and it makes note of positive developments that may have occurred during the period under review of factors and difficulties impeding the implementation of the Convention and of principal subjects of concern It also makes suggestions and recommendations to the State party concerned The present volume contains concluding observations adopted by the Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination at its forty third to fifty seventh sessions 1993 2000

Foreword by Mrs Mary Robinson United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights

The World Economy through the Lens of the United Nations José Antonio Ocampo, Anis Chowdhury, Diana Alarcón, 2018-02-23 This edited volume documents the intellectual influence of the United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs UN DESA through its flagship publication the World Economic and Social Survey WESS on its 70th Anniversary First published in 1948 as World Economic Report WESS is the oldest continuous post World War II publication recording and analysing the performance of the global economy and social development trends It offers relevant policy recommendations and highlights how well the United Nations UN annual report has tracked global economic and social conditions and how its analyses influenced and were influenced by the prevailing development discourse during the past seven decades It also critically reflects on its policy recommendations and their influence on actual policy making and the shaping of the world economy The World Economy through the Lens of the United Nations reflects on this report amongst others to provide valuable insights on global economic challenges and their differential impacts on different groups of countries requiring global policy coordination as well as context specific policy responses It demonstrates that UN reports have often been ahead of the curve and played a critical role in policy debate especially in the area of international policy coordination and coherence for balanced global development and offers rich and path breaking analyses of contemporary problems of growth development trade and stabilization

The Human Right to Water and International Economic Law Roberta Greco, 2022-05-05 This book

discusses the international right to water and the liberalization of water services It is concerned with the harmonization of the right to water with the legal systems under which liberalization of water services has taken or may take place It assesses paths of harmonization between international human rights law and international economic law in this specific field The issue of the compatibility between the fulfilment of the right to water and the liberalization of water services has been at the heart of a passionate public debate between opponents and advocates of the privatization of the utility The book provides an unbiased analysis of different international legal regimes under which the liberalization of water services has occurred or is likely to occur notably international investment law international trade law and European Union law in order to assess whether the main features of the right to water can be guaranteed under each of these systems of law and whether there is space for prospective harmonization The work will be an invaluable resource for academics researchers and policy makers working in the areas of International Human Rights Law International Economic Law International Water Law International Trade Law and EU Law

The Right to the Continuous Improvement of Living Conditions Jessie Hohmann, Beth Goldblatt, 2021-10-21 What does the right to the continuous improvement of living conditions in Article 11 1 of the International Covenant on Economic Social and Cultural Rights really mean and how can it contribute to social change The book explores how this underdeveloped right can have valuable application in response to global problems of poverty inequality and climate destruction through an in depth consideration of its meaning The book seeks to interpret and give meaning to the right as a legal standard giving it practical value for those whose living conditions are inadequate It locates the right within broader philosophical and political debates whilst also assessing the challenges to its realisation It also explores how the right relates to human rights more generally and considers its application to issues of gender care and the rights of Indigenous peoples The contributors deeply probe the meaning of living conditions suggesting that these encompass more than the basic rights to housing water food and clothing The chapters provide a range of doctrinal historical and philosophical engagements through grounded analysis and imaginative interpretation With a foreword by Sandra Liebenberg former Member of the UN Committee on Economic Social and Cultural Rights the book includes chapters from renowned and emerging scholars working across disciplines from around the world

The Idea of Home in Law Dr Lorna Fox O'Mahony, Professor James A Sweeney, 2013-02-28 The Idea of Home in Law Displacement and Dispossession explores an important set of legal and policy issues surrounding the concepts of home and homelessness taking a growing area of legal scholarship into the new arena of human rights and international law The collection considers the ideas concerning home both in the sense of the dwelling place as a special type of property and territorial claims to homeland which underpin many contemporary legal problems by examining a range of contexts where people are displaced or dispossessed from their homes The essays focusing on dispossession consider themes ranging from mortgage and rent arrears in the UK to responses to the foreclosure crisis in the USA and from eviction for the purposes of economic development in South Africa to the exclusion of asylum seekers from the UK's social housing and welfare provision and within the framework of the European Convention on Human Rights. The displacement theme meanwhile examines transnational home issues from the experiences of exiles and refugees in areas of conflict to the impact of the broader context of economic, social and cultural rights on attempts to protect housing and home through international law. At the heart of each essay the contributors, experts from across the fields of law, policy and housing rights, examine the circumstances in which displacement and dispossession take place and reconsider how law and policy respond to such circumstances with a particular focus on the impact of loss of home for the human person. At a time of particular and increasing concern about security of tenure and the role of law and policy in protecting people who are vulnerable to forced eviction, The Idea of Home in Law presents a bold opportunity to raise questions about the rights and norms associated with housing and home and to generate new insights for scholarship and for national and international policy debates concerning displacement and dispossession. OECD Journal on Development, Volume 9 Issue 2 Measuring Human Rights and Democratic Governance: Experiences and Lessons from Metagora OECD, 2008-09-08. On the occasion of the 60th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, this special issue of the OECD Journal on Development focuses on robust methods and tools for assessing human rights, democracy and governance. Urban Disaster Resilience David Sanderson, Jerold Kayden, Julia Leis, 2016-04-14. Accelerating urbanization worldwide means more urban-centered disasters. Floods, earthquakes, storms and conflicts affecting densely populated areas produce significant losses in lives, livelihoods and the built environment, especially in comparison to rural areas. Poor urban dwellers are almost always the most vulnerable; too often they bear the brunt. Aid agencies and urban professionals have been slowly adapting to these new conditions, but older models and practices hinder the most effective engagements. Drawing directly from the experiences of urban disasters in the Philippines, Chile, India, Thailand, Iraq, Haiti and Nepal, among other countries, Urban Disaster Resilience brings to light new collaborations and techniques for addressing the challenges of urban disasters in the coming years. Chapters range from country-specific case studies to more synthetic frameworks in order to promote innovative thinking and practical solutions. Edited by David Sanderson, Jerold S. Kayden and Julia Leis, this book is a crucial read for humanitarian and disaster specialists, urban planners and designers, architects, landscape architects, housing and economic development professionals, real estate developers, private business managers and students interested in the subject, whether based in non-governmental organizations, local, state or national governments, international agencies, private firms or the academy. Worldwide Perspectives on Lesbians, Gays, and Bisexuals Paula Gerber Ph.D., 2021-01-26.
