Understanding Life Sciences T. Isaac, 2006. Evolution Education Around the Globe Hasan Deniz, Lisa A. Borgerding, 2018-06-21. This edited book provides a global view on evolution education. It describes the state of evolution education in different countries that are representative of geographical regions around the globe such as Eastern Europe, Western Europe, North Africa, South Africa, North America, South America, Middle East, Far East, South East Asia, Australia and New Zealand. Studies in evolution education literature can be divided into three main categories: a) understanding the interrelationships among cognitive, affective, epistemological and religious factors that are related to people's views about evolution; b) designing/implementing/evaluating evolution education curriculum that reflects contemporary evolution understanding; and c) reducing antievolutionary attitudes. This volume systematically summarizes the evolution education literature across these three categories for each country or geographical region. The individual chapters thus include common elements that facilitate a cross-cultural meta-analysis. Written for a primarily academic audience, this book provides a much needed common background for future evolution education research across the globe.

Proceedings of the International Conference on Education Research Reza Hosseini, Workbook for Understanding Life Sciences, 2014. A Moral Inquiry into Epistemic Insights in Science Education Dana L. Zeidler, 2024-09-04. This edited volume reveals a reflective culmination of the Socioscientific Issues (SSI) framework that examines past, present and future trends along with advances in the field of science education. It presents for the first time what the precursors and nascent features of the framework entailed and examines the underlying presuppositions that have guided this research program as it matured into present-day conceptualizations and cutting-edge advances of the SSI framework along with implications for the future. More precisely, the volume examines what the impetus was for the factors preceding the framework, how it came to be formalized into a conceptual and theoretical framework, the philosophical, sociological and psychological underpinnings of the framework, its role with respect to moral education in the context of science education and what it means to pursue moral inquiry and epistemic insight in the practice of science teaching and
