Translation and Stylistic Variation Helen Gibson, 2023-09-01
Translation and Stylistic Variation Dialect and Heteroglossia in Northern Irish Poetic Translation considers the ways in which translators use stylistic variation analysing the works of three Northern Irish poet translators to look at how in this variety the translation process becomes a creative act by which translators can explore their own linguistic and cultural heritage The volume offers a holistic portrait of the use of linguistic variety dialect and heteroglossia in the literary translations of Seamus Heaney Ciaran Carson and Tom Paulin shedding light on the translators choices but also readers experiences of them Drawing on work from cognitive stylistics Gibson reflects on how and why translators choose to add linguistic variety and how these choices can often be traced back to their socio cultural context The book not only extends existing scholarship on Irish English literary translation to examine issues unique to Northern Ireland but also raises broader questions about translation in locations where language choice is fraught and political The volume makes the case for giving increased consideration to the role of the individual translator both for insights into personal choices and a more nuanced understanding of contemporary literary translation practices in Ireland and beyond This book will be of interest to scholars working in translation studies literary studies and Irish studies For a video recording of the book s BCLT launch visit <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=857wTF8crUM>

a detailed case study of Susan who during a 20 year long treatment spontaneously discovers the capacity to do doodle drawings An important focus of the book is the drawings themselves 150 of which are reproduced in the text and their deep unconscious perception of the battle between sanity and madness It is these drawings linked with Milner s sensitive and lucid record of the therapeutic encounter that give the book its unique and compelling interest With a new introduction by Adam Phillips The Hands of the Living God is essential reading for all those with an interest in the fields of psychoanalysis and psychotherapy and more widely to those involved in therapy and the arts

Foucault, Feminism, and Sex Crimes Chloë Taylor, 2018-10-08 This book brings together Foucault s writings on crime and delinquency on the one hand and sexuality on the other to argue for an anti carceral feminist Foucauldian approach to sex crimes The author expands on Foucault s writings through intersectional explorations of the critical race decolonial critical disability queer and critical trans studies literatures on the prison that have emerged since the publication of Discipline and Punish and The History of Sexuality Drawing on Foucault s insights from his genealogical period the book argues that those labeled as sex offenders will today be constructed to re offend twice over once in virtue of the delinquency with which they are inculcated through criminological discourses and in the criminal punishment system and second in virtue of the manners in which their sexual offense is taken up as an identity through psychological and sexological discourses The book includes a discussion of non retributive responses to crime including preventative redistributive restorative and transformative justice It concludes with two appendixes the original 19th century medico legal report on Charles Jouy and its English translation by the author

Foucault Feminism and Sex Crimes will be of interest to feminist philosophers Continental philosophers Women s and Gender Studies scholars social and political theorists as well as social scientists and social justice activists

Swearing in English Tony McEnery, 2004-06 Swearing is an everyday part of the language of most speakers of modern English This corpus informed account describes swearing and its social function with a particular focus on the relationship between swearing and abuse

Translingual Francophonie and the Limits of Translation Ioanna Chatzidimitriou, 2020-09-02 Translingual Francophonie and the Limits of Translation proposes a novel theoretical lens for the study of translation as theme and practice in works by four translingual francophone authors Vassilis Alexakis Chahdortt Djavann Nancy Huston and Andre Makine In particular it argues that translation allows for the most productive encounter with otherness when it is practiced in its estuarine dimension When two foreign bodies of water come into contact in an estuary often a new environment is created at their shared border that does not however invalidate the distinctiveness chemical biological geological etc of either fresh or sea water Similarly texts translated from one language to another should ideally not transform into but rather relate to their new host s linguistic and cultural codes in ways that account both for their undiluted strangeness and the missteps gaps and discontinuities the challenging yet novel and productive articulations of relationality that proliferate at the border of the encounter

Dirty Italian Gabrielle Euvino, 2012-05-01 Presents slang expressions and obscenities in both languages that can be used in situations such as parties sporting events entertainment venues restaurants and bars
