Nanohybrid Materials for Water Purification Sarat K. Swain, 2022-08-12 This book comprehensively reviews the key topics in the area of nanocomposites and hybrid materials used for waste water treatment and purification It covers materials chemistry various synthesis approaches and properties of these nanomaterials for the different water purification techniques It provides new direction to the readers to better understand the chemistry behind these materials and the methods to improve their properties This book will be a very valuable reference source for graduates and postgraduates engineers research scholars primarily in the field of material science water nanoscience and nanotechnology material scientists researchers in the water related area scientists working in water treatment plans and pollution mitigation industries

From Internet of Things to Internet of Intelligence Marcel Ohanga Odhiambo, Weston Mwashita, 2024-04-22 The book focuses on the open challenges associated with the convergence of the Internet of Things and Artificial Intelligence as accommodated in 6G architecture The authors discuss how in many fields such as Natural Language Processing NLP interactive computer games robotics and multiuser virtual environments this convergence is likely to have enormously benefits from artificial intelligence mimicking human intelligence attempting to simulate human intelligence and producing a new intelligent machine capable of processing information with human consciousness behaviour and thinking integrated with appropriate algorithms The book provides users with the fundamentals of IoT architecture AI technology and the architecture of AI and IoT converged networks Furthermore to provide hands on experience with the technology some proposed systems are discussed along with their applications in various sectors such as healthcare transportation smart homes production manufacturing renewable energy and agriculture The book will discuss new technological advances current research trends and industry requirements Discussed open challenges in the field will motivate researchers and stakeholders in industry to provide solutions with some presented in the book to help spark ideas

Deanship in the Global South Oliver J.J. Seale, 2021-02-08 The university today is a postmodern neo liberal competitive boundary less knowledge conglomerate a far cry from its historical traditional classical and collegial roots There is a body of literature on deanship that points to its evolving nature in the contemporary academe characterised by complexity and change Balancing academic demands simultaneously with the requirements for effective performance leadership and management lies at the heart of this very challenging bridging role nowadays Deans are generally former academics emerging from a traditional collegial space and often catapulted into the relatively unknown domain of executive management with its related problems Deans nowadays are required to be more than collegial intellectual leaders They are also meant to be fiscal and human resource experts fundraisers politicians and diplomats Deanship in the Global South Bridging Troubled Waters is about the deans lived reality as they try to balance the demands of both the academe from which they emerge and the administration to whom they now need to account Their lack of preparation and inadequate support points to the need for a more strategic integrated approach to leadership development within their critical bridging roles between the academe and administration

Redefining Education and Development Kaitano Dube, 2024-10-18 The book aligns with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs particularly Goal 4 which focuses on quality education It explores the evolving role of education as a critical driver for achieving all 17 SDGs by providing a platform for discussing innovative educational models and theories that foster sustainable development The book takes an interdisciplinary approach merging educational theory developmental practice and human psychology to address complex global challenges hindering sustainable development The book includes case studies and empirical research such as exploring student entrepreneurship in the agricultural sector and the factors bridging the gap between entrepreneurial intention and venture creation These examples provide readers with practical applications of theoretical concepts and demonstrate the real world impact of educational innovations which is at the core of education delivery for all and how education touches on other areas of the SDGs The book offers valuable insights for policymakers educators and development practitioners by presenting research and theory based analyses It suggests ways to improve the academic environment to foster entrepreneurship and innovation which are key to economic development and job creation especially in regions with high youth unemployment rates The content suggests educational reforms that are responsive to the changing societal and economic landscapes The book's blend of theory and practice targets a broad audience including academic scholars students development agencies non governmental organisations and policymakers It seeks to engage these diverse readers in a conversation about the future of education and its role in achieving sustainable development In summary the book seeks to provide a comprehensive exploration of the nexus between education development and human needs in the context of the SDGs offering innovative perspectives and practical solutions to equip readers to contribute to sustainable global development
