McDonough, 2006-07-19 The men in plays such as Arthur Miller's Death of a Salesman or Sam Shepard's True West are often presented as universal little attention is given to the gender dynamics involved in the characters This work looks at how contemporary playwrights including Miller Shepard Eugene O'Neill David Mamet and August Wilson stage masculinity in their works It becomes apparent that male playwrights return often to the issues of troubled manhood usually masked in other issues such as war business or family The plays indicate both the attractiveness of the model of traditional masculinity and the illusive nature of this image which all too often fractures and fails the characters who pursue it O'Neill's play The Hairy Ape and the character Yank receive much attention Awkward Intelligence Katharina A. Moving Parts Nina Shengold, Eric Lane, 1992-01-01 Moving Parts offers actors the best monologues from great plays, pieces by both well-known and up-and-coming playwrights, including many minority artists that offer a variety of dramatic styles for beginning and experienced actors. Included are more than a hundred monologues from such contemporary voices as Eric Bogosian, Caryl Churchill, Christopher Durang, Maria Irene Fornes, Athol Fugard, Philip Kan Gotanda, V. C. Havel, Lanford Wilson, and George C. Wolfe. Designed for easy browsing, the monologues are indexed by gender, age, and subject to help actors locate appropriate material, and each is introduced with a short description of the plot, setting, and character type. These monologues stand on their own as good theater, while they give actors a well-defined character, a story to tell, and a wide range of behavior and feeling to portray.

The Pedestrian and the City Carmen Hass-Klau, 2014-11-27 The Pedestrian and the City provides an overview and insight into the development, politics, and policies on walking and pedestrians; it includes the evolution of pedestrian-friendly housing estates in the 19th century up to the present day. Key issues addressed include the struggle of pedestrianization in town centers, the attempts to create independent pedestrian footpaths, and the popularity of traffic calming as a powerful policy for reducing pedestrian accidents. Hass-Klau also covers the wider aspects of urban and transport planning, especially public transport, essential for promoting a pedestrian-friendly environment. The book includes pedestrian-friendly policies and guidelines from a number of European countries and includes case studies from the UK, Germany, Britain, France, Spain, Italy, the Netherlands, Denmark, the US, and Canada, with further examples from ten additional countries. It also contains a unique collection of original photographs, including before and after photos of newly introduced pedestrian-friendly transport policies. As the pedestrian environment has become ever more crucial for the future of our cities, the book will be invaluable to students and practicing planners, geographers, transport engineers, and local government officers.
