Time-Series Observations of Ocean Acidification: a Key Tool for Documenting Impacts on a Changing Planet Abed El Rahman Hassoun, Adrienne J. Sutton, Sam Dupont, Jose Martin Hernandez-Ayon, Xianghui Guo, 2025-04-15 Ocean acidification is a global phenomenon with local effects Marine ecosystems are facing multiple stressors leading to significant changes Time series observations are the basis to understand these changes and distinguishing between natural and anthropogenic variability of physical chemical and biological components of marine environments Moreover field monitoring is often neglected as a tool to document the responses of marine organisms and key habitats to ocean acidification Time series observations of ocean acidification are thus critical to understanding the current threats that the ocean's ecosystems are witnessing and efficiently developing and implementing adaptation and mitigation solutions Time series dedicated to observing ocean acidification other stressors as well as biological parameters are the baseline for long term assessment of the ocean's health and for evaluating the efficiency of local and global actions toward achieving climate targets Therefore the goal of this Research Topic is to highlight the latest research efforts conducted to document ocean acidification patterns and trends and their consequences on marine life In this issue we will focus on new and old time series stations efforts to bridge physical chemical and biological observations and their application for modeling and future projections

Secure Networked Inference with Unreliable Data Sources Aditya Vempaty, Bhavya Kailkhura, Pramod K. Varshney, 2018-08-30 The book presents theory and algorithms for secure networked inference in the presence of Byzantines It derives fundamental limits of networked inference in the presence of Byzantine data and designs robust strategies to ensure reliable performance for several practical network architectures In particular it addresses inference or learning processes such as detection estimation or classification and parallel hierarchical and fully decentralized peer to peer system architectures Furthermore it discusses a number of new directions and heuristics to tackle the problem of design complexity in these practical network architectures for inference

ENVIRONMENTAL STRESSES AND RESOURCE USE IN COASTAL URBAN AND PERI-URBAN REGIONS Tran Dinh Lan,E. Gunilla Almered Olsson,Serin Alpokay,2014-12-16 This book is one of the outputs from the EU FP7 research project SECOA Solutions for Environmental Contrasts in Coastal Areas working in the period December 20019 1 December 2013 In the project participated five countries from EU and three partners are from outside Europe The main goals of the project were to analyze conflicts on resource use in urban coastal areas with special emphasis on urbanization and mobility and in the context of global environmental changes One of the work packages in the project was dedicated to work on Environmental stresses on the natural resources in the urban coastal context The work package on Environmental stresses and resource use for sustainable development was led by Dr Tran Dinh Lan Specific studies on this theme was performed by the partners as 17 case studies two one country had three per country which yielded a large data set presented in this volume The case studies were all first written as national reports and were also compiled in a project deliverable D2 2

Nanotoxicology in Safety Assessment of Nanomaterials Henriqueta Louro, Maria João Silva, 2022-05-18 Since its advent nanotechnologies are considered key enabling technologies that take advantage of a wide array of nanomaterials NMs for biomedical and industrial applications generating significant societal and economic benefits However such innovation increases human exposure to these substances through inhalation ingestion or dermal contact raising public health concerns Furthermore the NMs specific physicochemical properties that confer them unique beneficial characteristics can also elicit nano bio interactions leading to toxicity and concerns for public health In addition such properties can be affected by the surrounding matrix particularly when incorporated in complex matrices such as food products leading to secondary features potentially more relevant than primary characteristics for determining their toxicological outcome These nano specific issues raise the question of whether the NMs may produce adverse outcomes that are not accounted for when using conventional toxicological approaches to assess their safety Such uncertainties about the safety of NMs for human health and the environment may hamper a faster and more widespread exploration of their potentials In response the NMs definition has evolved and nanotoxicology has developed towards new and more integrative approach methods to support regulatory and policy actions This book provides a perspective on recent developments in the synthesis application and characterization of NMs and the related nanotechnologies focusing on nanotoxicology for their accurate safety assessment early in the product development stage The use of complex in vitro models including multicellular systems and organoids and omics based approaches such as transcriptomics or epigenomics have greatly contributed to an in depth understanding of the cellular and molecular mechanisms behind some NMs toxicity Such mechanistic knowledge is equally addressed in this book and has set the basis for a predictive nanotoxicology approach building on adverse outcome pathways In addition considering the knowledge provided by the above mentioned approaches insights into risk assessment standardization and regulation of NMs are also included Incorporating adequate nanosafety assessment early in the life cycle of NMs will allow the implementation of the safe and sustainable by design paradigm enabling safety to keep pace with innovation Chapters 10 and 15 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link.springer.com

Criminology and Criminal Justice Anthony Walsh,2025-09-24 Key Contested Issues in Criminology and Criminal Justice addresses the key issues within criminology and criminal justice that are strongly contested among scholars in the field Covering 18 different themes the book identifies the ways in which different issues are contested and demonstrates how biopsychosocial concepts and methods can inform most of them It is divided into four broad sections The first section examines philosophical issues such as the value of philosophy in criminology criminal justice the role of ideology in our disciplines and the issues of human nature and free will versus determinism The second section explains the biopsychosocial perspective that provides the framework used in exploring the various issues It explores the possibility of integrating the natural sciences with criminology behavioral and molecular genetics evolutionary theory and neuroscience It also considers issues related to child maltreatment brain development and the role of rationality vis vis emotion in decision making The third section examines crime causation and contains chapters on social learning versus control theories radical critical theories the relationship between intelligence and criminal behavior issues of socioeconomic status SES poverty and crime and whether religion is a barrier or bridge to antisocial behavior The final section looks at four issues in criminal justice the police abolition movement the nature of punishment and its justifications by the criminal justice system and issues in sentencing and the death penalty Key Contested Issues in Criminology and Criminal Justice will be of value to students and scholars in criminology and criminal justice as well as to criminal justice practitioners Neuroendocrine Regulation of
