Costigan, 2010-11-01 Most pre service education students are enthusiastic about the progressive constructivist and student centered theory and practice advocated in many teacher education programs and by the National Council of Teachers of English Yet in actual day to day practice teachers often have trouble thinking of ways in which such student centered and constructivist practices in literacy instruction can be implemented in classrooms which are increasingly driven by high stakes tests increased accountability and mandated and even teacher proof scripted curricula Teaching Authentic Language Arts in a Test Driven Era provides a powerful and much needed counterargument to the assumption that test driven curricula preclude meaningful instruction and authentic student engagement within a Language Arts curriculum Providing teachers with the theoretical stances and pedagogical tools to develop a Language Arts practice which can be personally rewarding as well as beneficial to students Teaching Authentic Language Arts in a Test Driven Era empowers teachers to be effective even within the confines of a testing and accountability driven curriculum Tell Our Story Julie Reid, Dale T. McKinley, 2020-05-01 Focusing on three South African communities the authors dismiss the idea that some groups are voiceless arguing that they are being deliberately ignored by dominant news media The dominant news media are often accused of reflecting an elite bias privileging and foregrounding the interests of a small segment of society while ignoring the narratives of the majority The authors of Tell Our Story investigate this problem and offer a hands on demonstration of listening journalism and research in practice In the process they dismiss the idea that some groups are voiceless arguing that what is often described in such terms is mostly a matter of those groups being deliberately ignored Focusing their attention on three very different South African communities they delve into the life and struggle narratives of each exposing the divide between the stories told by the people who actually live in the communities and the way in which those stories have been understood and shaped by the media The three communities are those living in the Glebelands hostel complex in Durban where over 100 residents have been killed in politically motivated violence in the past few years the Xolobeni community on the Wild Coast which has been resisting the building of a new toll road and a dune mining venture
