CONVICT BOY
Jackie French

TEACHING IDEAS

In Tom Appleby Convict Boy, Jackie French describes the events that shaped Tom's early life from his time as an only child through to his life as an orphan, a chimney sweep, a convict and finally an independent farmer in his own right. Through Tom's life, Jackie also shows what influenced the early British settlements in Australia.

Themes for discussion:

 Life in 18th century London:

How would a town without cars, buses, trucks, telephones, supermarkets, refrigeration or compulsory school for kids be different from today?

 Courage:

How is courage important in helping us to take risks and do things on our own?

 Orphans:

What happens to kids who lose their parents today?

 Child labour:

Chimney sweeps -

In Tom's time, country fireplaces mostly had wood fires; city dwellers burnt coal. Why do you think having a fire was so important and why were chimney sweeps so necessary in homes that had coal-burning fires?

 Friendship:

How do friendships affect our lives and our sense of who we are?

 Convict Life:

How might the life of a convict vary depending on when they were sent to Australia and whom they worked for?
To what did "ticket of leave" refer?

 Transportation – Prison Hulks and life at sea:

How might the sailors and convicts have been affected by poor nutrition and the lack of fresh water?
Why was there a high risk of shipwreck?
What did it mean if a ship was stuck in the "doldrums"?

 Settlers and their relationship with the Aboriginals:

How differently did the settlers and the native people of Australia view the land and their relationship to it?

 Self-sufficiency through farming:

What foods would have been available to the early settlers?
Many of the settlers believed that they were starving. Why?
How was the food in their new home different from the food in England?
How would they have distinguished between safe plants and poisonous ones?

 Shattered dreams and renewed hope for the future:

How do people continue to make plans when their dreams are repeatedly dashed?

 Ghosts:

What does it mean when people talk about their ghosts in relation to their past?

 Darkness and light – the importance of light to the well-being of humans:

People in Tom's time used oil lamps, candles made from beeswax or slush lamps. Try spending a night with just lamplight.
How much light does it really give for reading or sewing?
If you didn't want to go to bed when it got dark, what might you have done if you couldn't read or sew?
Ask someone over the age of sixty what they did when they were kids, before TV?
