Reconfiguration of Business Models and Ecosystems Svetla T. Marinova, Marin A. Marinov, 2023-02-10 Decoupling of business models and ecosystems is the disconnection of certain characteristic activities originally planned and completed in coincidence. It could bring in an immense adverse shock in the functioning of established business models and ecosystems possibly bringing them to resilience. Core causes for decoupling and resilience of business models and ecosystems are jolts known as global crisis, universal pandemics, etc. The undesirable outcomes of critical events can reveal unique circumstances for business model and ecosystem resilience. Business model and ecosystem resilience represents a mandatory prerequisite for firms challenging their functioning and even very existence. Research has been conducted thus far; nevertheless, this theme requires significantly more consideration. The key objective of this book is to bring further insights in the field, delivering a thorough examination of the ways in which business models and ecosystems can develop resilience under extraordinary conditions. In the book, the resilience of business models and ecosystems is analysed, aiming to investigate further the specifics of the relevant processes securing resilience and its outcomes. The resilience of business models and ecosystems is scrutinised as a credible way for enhancing the predispositions of firm's survivability. Intervention Research Anthony F. Buono, Henri Savall, Laurent Cappelletti, 2018-05-01 This volume continues to build on the relationship between the Research in Management Consulting series and the intervener researchers at the Socio-Economic Institute for Firms and Organizations (ISEOR) in Evry, France, extending that partnership to our recent work with the French Foundation for Management Education (FNEGE), a foundation dedicated to closing the gap between the teaching and practice of management in France. As part of the Foundation's multifaceted activities, which range from seminars and an advanced training initiative for French doctoral students to joint programs with international organizations, an association, FNEGE partnered with ISEOR to sponsor a series of workshops on developing high-quality intervention research. This volume is one of the results from that endeavor. Although intervention research helps to uncover valuable insight into organizational dynamics and performance, the challenge of capturing and disseminating that insight to both academics and practitioners is entrenched in the rigor-relevance debate. While we are witnessing increased calls for actionable knowledge this ideal unfortunately remains a rather elusive concept as critics contend either that rigorous academic research falls well short of relevance to the practitioner world or research that proves to be valuable to practitioners falls short of the rigor expected in academic life This volume is intended to help bridge that divide Drawing on the FNEGE ISEOR intervention research workshop the volume contains 18 chapters that explore the intervention research process from initial conceptualization to implementation to publication The volume is published in French and English
